PROMISES ALL POSSIBLE AID TO MAC ARTHUR

Stimson Says Constantly Increasing Flow of Supplies Will Be Maintained.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — A constantly increasing flow of aircraft and other military supplies was promised today by Secretary of War Stimson for the forces of General Douglas MacArthur in the southwest Pacific.

Taking cognizance at his press conference of recent pleas from Australia for additional planes to meet the more aggressive Japanese aerial activity of recent weeks, Stimson said "we will keep the American and Australian fronts supplied with sufficient planes not only to replace our losses but to build up our air forces to counter the increasing enemy air strength."

The secretary said that such appeals for additional material came to this country from all theaters of operations, and added that vigorous public officials in areas close to the war would be remiss in their duties if they failed to press their demands.

Australian officials frequently have called for more help.

However, Stimson said, the allied combined chiefs of staff, charged with meeting the overall requirements of all the United Nations, has the "very difficult task" of allocating a limited supply to meet large demands.

Needs Kept in Mind

"The needs of the southwest Pacific are being kept constantly in mind," the secretary concluded, "and there will be a constantly increasing flow of military supplies, particularly aircraft, to that theater."

Japanese operations in the Pacific, military authorities here believe, have passed from the offensive stage to one of "aggressive defense."

Despite reports of increased enemy air activity, these authorities said today, there is little danger the Japanese will attempt to strike against Australia or any other important United Nations bastion.

These experts said they were reasonably confident the main concern of the Tokyo warlords now, with forces much weaker than a year ago, was to hold and develop the Netherlands East Indies, Malaya and other rich areas already conquered.

At the same time, these authorities who declined use of their names held forth little promise of early allied offensives against the Japanese on a major scale, explaining the United States was committed to such large scale operations in the European theater that any comparable undertaking in the Pacific zone would overtax its strength, especially in shipping.

Heavy Air Blows Coming

This does not rule out heavy naval and air blows this spring or summer—blows for which both Army and Navy have been marshalling and organizing their forces for several months. But it would seem to eliminate for the time being any likelihood of decisive action taken on American initiative.

Inquiries prompted by recent aggressive statements from Australia about the massing of

$60,639 Is Added To Bond Total in County

Marion Co. Now Has 42 Per Cent of Goal; List of Rural Drive Workers Announced.

Yesterday's work added $60,639.75 to Marion county bond purchasers in the Second War Loan campaign and brought its total to $1,074,438.50 or slightly more than 42 per cent of the $2,535,000 goal.

Although the day's total was not a large one, F. E. Guthery, chairman, said he felt satisfied work was progressing throughout the city and county, adding that a number of orders were taken yesterday that have not yet been officially reported. Promises of later purchases before the end of the drive on April 30 also have been obtained.

Meanwhile, Mr. Guthery reported names of many of the rural workers who will handle the bond selling drive in the townships.

In Tully township, William Rush, Mr. Guinther and F. W. Baldinger are in charge. Dr. J. E. Baker is in charge of Scott township. Others in the list are: Green Camp, Clifford Smith, Ed Ruth, John Ruth and Arthur Haberman for both the village and township; Big Island, A. J. Loudenslager; Marion township North, Wallace Linn; Grand Prairie, Thomas Thew; Salt Rock and Morral, D. W. Mahaffey, Mr. Rogers and T. J. Lucas; Grand, G. C. Blow and Lewis Anderson; Prospect township, J. H. Woleslagel; Pleasant, Dale Lawrence; Waldo township, Henry Strine; Claridon South, Emmett Trout; Richland, Wallace F. Bickel and Victor H. Kreis; Montgomery, to be handled by LaRue committee previously announced.

Corporation purchases to date have included one as large as $100,000, and among individuals $10,000 is the biggest single order so far. There have been a number of $5,000 individual purchases and scores of smaller denominations.

Call for Support

In urging all Marion county residents to support the drive, leaders today pointed out that everyone can't fight at the battle front.

But that doesn't keep those of us at home from helping to bomb Germany, push Rommel into the sea or make Tojo yell "Uncle."

Uncle Sam is giving every "homefronter" a chance to hit the Axis partners where it hurts during the Second War Loan drive for $18,000,000,000.

You get a deep feeling of satisfaction when you read about those 1,000-plane raids on Berlin, about the American tank victories in Africa and U. S. naval blows at Japan in the Pacific.

Maybe you hadn't realized it before, but you play a mighty important part in that battle picture. You pay the bill.

For example, a single 1,000-bomber raid on Berlin calls for $375,000 worth of gasoline. $1,-

STUTTGART POUNDED IN HEAVY RAF RAID

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 15—Britain's powerful four-engined bombers raced 400 miles across Nazi-held Europe last night to strike at the German industrial city of Stuttgart in a highly concentrated raid from which 23 bombers failed to return, the air ministry announced today.

Simultaneously, other allied planes—presumed here to be Russian—were reported by Berlin to have hit at East Prussia.

The air ministry announcement described the attack upon Stuttgart, a city of 410,000 and one of Germany's most important engineering centers as "very heavy." The target was "clearly identified," the ministry declared, indicating the raid was favored by good weather.

At least three German night fighters were reported shot down by the big British bombers.

The air ministry news service reported railway communications in northern France also were attacked during the night by RAF fighters and Whirlwind bombers on night patrol damaged two enemy vessels in a low-level attack near Le Treport, on the French coast.

Japs Hold Large Fighting Force North of Australia

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 15 — A great Japanese combat fleet is concentrated being maintained in the area, "within less than days' sailing distance of Guinea," a spokesman for Douglas MacArthur said today in a statement containing the caution warning from the allied command in three days.

The statement came soon after announcement the Japanese launched the third air attack in force in four days on an allied base in eNw Guinea yesterday with an attack on Milne bay that cost the enemy probable loss of 30 planes, including 22

Large Shipping Force

A spokesman, supplementing alarming reports of Japanese attempts to concentrate air, sea and ground forces in the area just beyond the reach of allied land-based aviation as-regards merchant shipping concentration of approximately 250,000 tons has been assembled in or around Rabaul for the past several months. Other Japanese bases on the arc—Palau, Manila, Soerabaja—are within easy concentration range of the 2,500-mile battle line which envelops the upper half of Australia.

"Constant convoys operating beyond the range of our air forces are being pushed forward to reinforce the enemy."

Fifteen of the raiders actually were seen to crash, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters communique said, while 15 others were so badly damaged they probably could not return to their base.

Japanese bombs started fires on two small allied vessels in the harbor but the flames were controlled quickly, and a third vessel was heavily hit and forced onto the beach, it was announced. Damage to beach installations was said to have been negligible.

Allied Losses Low

The attackers numbered between 75 and 100, it was estimated, including 45 medium and dive bombers with a fighter escort. Allied fighter losses were moderate, headquarters said.

The first attack this week occurred Sunday at Oro bay, on the east coast of Papua, and 24 of the Japanese fleet of 45 fighters and

Soldier Missing Since Bataan Is Prisoner of Japs

Parents of Pfc. H. R. Dutt Get First Word Since Philippines Fell.

Pfc. Homer R. Dutt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dutt of 366 Hane avenue, missing since the fall of Bataan in the battle of the Philippine Islands, is a prisoner of the Japanese government, according to word received last night from the adjutant general's office in Washington, D. C.

Last heard from in November of 1941, Pfc. Dutt was believed to have landed in the islands a week before simultaneous attacks on Pearl Harbor and Manila. Two days after the fall of Bataan the war department, through offices in Washington, informed Mr. and Mrs. Dutt that their son was missing in action.

Hope Justified

Although they had not received word from either their son or the war department since then, Mr. and Mrs. Dutt refused to give up hope. The word finally arrived last night when an employe at the office of the Western Union telephoned Mr. Dutt at his home of the arrival of the wire. Mrs. Dutt was visiting at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Redmond, who live on a farm two miles west of Cardington. As soon as he had heard the complete text of the wire, Mr. Dutt drove to the Redmon farm to share the news with his wife.

Reached this morning in the machine shop of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. where he is employed, Mr. Dutt told a reporter his wife wanted to come home last night. He explained that she had been in a nervous state ever since learning that her only son was missing in the Philippine war theater and that she had visited frequently with relatives as a means of relieving the strain.

Mr. Dutt said he advised her to remain at her brother's home overnight and said he would return for her after getting off work at the shovel company early this evening.

Text of Message

The text of the wire received from the department follows:

"Your son, Pfc. Homer R. Dutt, has been reported a prisoner of war of the Japanese government in the Philippine islands. Letter follows." Signed, Ulio, Adjutant General.

Pfc. Dutt enlisted in the Army in January of 1941 and was inducted along with 30 other Marion county men at the Ft. Hayes induction center. He was assigned as a mechanic to a tank battallion at Ft. Knox, Ky., remaining there until in October of 1941.

At that time he was home on a seven-day furlough, his father said. He knew then he was to be shipped to the Philippines, Mr. Dutt recalled this morning.

A month later Dutt arrived at an undisclosed port of debarkation in the Philippines. Only one letter has been received from him since then.

Former Shovel Worker

Before entering the service, he was employed in the erecting department at the shovel company and before that was employed at the Haberman Chevrolet garage as a mechanic.

Word reporting Pfc. Dutt as a prisoner of war leaves at least one Marion county man unaccounted for in the Philippine islands warfare. He is Pvt. George Robert Eyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Eyre of 174 Barnhart street. Pvt. Eyre was reported missing in action by the war department in June of last year. On Jan. 7, 1942, a war department wire to his parents notified them that he had been wounded in action. A surveyor, he was stationed with a group of engineers assigned to work of laying roads through the Philippine jungle-lands when last heard from.

WORD AWAITED FROM MISSING TOM HARMON

Noted Michigan Gridder, Army Air Force Pilot Lost in Caribbean.

By The Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich., April 15—A Mom and a Dad and a campusful of shocked students waited tensely today for a scrap of news that would say Tom Harmon is safe.

Lieut. Thomas Dudley Harmon, one of the great football players of all time, is missing in the Latin-American area. The war department informed his parents of this—with no further detail—in a brief telegram last night.

Stricken first with grief, his parents then swallowed the news and insisted immediately that Tom was not dead, that "Old 98" had not scored its last touchdown.

All-American Two Years

Harmon, an All-American at Michigan in 1939 and 1940 and a gridiron star since his high school freshman days, left the continental United States two weeks ago in a bomber inscribed with his familiar jersey number—98.

"Old— 98—Little Butch," he called the plane.

From the Caribbean area he wrote his parents on April 4. The war department said he had been missing since April 8.

"We're praying," said his father, Louis A. Harmon. "Tom is strong and knows how to take care of himself."

Tom was the best-known football player in University of Michigan history. He scored 237 points in three years of college competition, more than any other player, and his 33 touchdowns were two more than the 31 made by Illinois' famed Red Grange.

Harmon entered the United States Army air forces a year ago and was made a pilot and a second lieutenant at Williams Field, Ariz., on Oct. 30, 1942. He is 23.

A native of Gary, Ind., Harmon moved his parents to Ann Arbor and built a $17,000 home for them with his earnings after graduation. After his graduation in June, 1941, Tom obtained a job as sports broadcaster for a Detroit station and described the Michigan games from a radio booth that fall.

Last Game in Ohio

He played his last college football game in Ohio Stadium at Columbus, when, on a rainy and cold afternoon, Nov. 23, 1940, he led the Maize and Blue to a 40-to-0 victory over the bewildered Buckeyes.

As he left the field, muddy and dog-tired in the last minute of the game, the crowd of 70,000 rose and cheered his amazing performance and said their farewell to one of the all-time greats of the gridiron.

He played on the Michigan team that defeated Ohio State, 18 to 0, in 1938; again in 1939, 21 to 14.

After the 1940 season Hollywood glorified him in a moving picture in which he played himself, "Harmon of Michigan."

Edison Minister To Start Church in New War Town

Rev. D. Allen Polen, pastor of the Methodist church at Edison, has accepted a call from the West Oklahoma conference to build and institute a church at Midwest City, Okla., adjacent to the Douglas Aircraft plant near Oklahoma City, Okla. Midwest City, a new town established since the outbreak of the war, is made up mostly of employes of the aircraft plant, and is expected to reach a population of approximately 4,000 persons. The plant employs 2,600 men and women, Rev. Polen states.

Rev. Polen, 29 years old, received the call recently, while he and Mrs. Polen and their two-year-old son Tommy were visiting Mrs. Polen's brother Dr. W. E. Robinson, pastor of Grace Methodist church in Oklahoma City. They expect to leave for their new work May 17.

Rev. Polen came to the Edison pastorate from Ivoryton, Conn., a year ago. His home formerly was in eastern Ohio and Mrs. Polen formerly lived in Oklahoma City. Rev. Polen was released from the Northeast Ohio conference at a special session called by that body last Saturday. His successor has not been named.

BULGARIAN SHOT

NEW YORK, April 15—The Berlin radio reported today Petr Janeff, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the Bulgarian parliament was shot and mortally wounded today as he left his home in Sofia.

The plane bears the number 98 which Harmon as a football star made famous. The other photo shows him in basketball togs, basketball having been one of the sports in which he starred.

600 PRISONERS TAKEN IN TWO HILL SECTIONS

British and French Troops Capture Important Axis Positions.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 15 — French and British infantry successfully stormed two important hills on the south and western fronts of the constricted axis Tunisian line yesterday and, capturing 600 prisoners, increased the total allied bag since the opening of the Mareth offensive to more than 30,000.

Attacking the Djebel Selsouf, the French rounded up 400 Germans and took possession of that mountain position which has been the western anchorage of Marshal Erwin Rommel's new Enfidaville line.

The Djebel Selsouf lies 30 miles due west of Enfidaville, 50 miles southwest of Tunis and seven miles northeast of the village of Bir Kamerhoun.

Field dispatches said a further advance by the British Eighth army in the Enfidaville sector was halted by heavy artillery commanding the coast road to Tunis.

Take Mountain Top

Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's veteran British infantrymen captured a mountain top, the Djebel Ang, eight miles above Medjez-El-Bab and some 30 miles west of Tunis in fierce fighting during which they rounded up more than 200 Nazi Alpine troops.

It was officially announced more than 30,000 axis soldiers had been seized by the allies in Tunisia since Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery opened the Mareth line drive March 20 of these 25,000 were Italian.

Premature reports, broadcast by the Algiers radio, that the allies had captured Enfidaville, 50 miles south of Tunis, and the Djebel Mansour, 38 miles to the west, were officially denied.

Aerial operations boosted to more than 200 the number of axis planes shot down in the Mediterranean theater in the five-day period from Saturday through Wednesday, an average of 10 a day. The total for yesterday was 21, while eight allied aircraft failed to return.

U. S. Flying Fortresses again paced the allied air onslaught with heavy assaults on the axis landing grounds at El Aouina, near Tunis and at El Mas and Non-ferrato, in Sardinia. Nineteen interception enemy fighters were destroyed by the big bombers in combat and additional aircraft were wrecked aground. All the Fortresses returned.

Bloody Battle Near

The battle of Tunisia moved into its bloodiest phase as allied armies deployed before Rommel's new defense arc in front of Tunis and Bizerte.

(Some unofficial observers in London speculated the next allied stroke might be a smash northeastward toward the Gulf of Tunis from the Medjez-El-Bab or Bou Arada sectors to cut the remaining axis forces in two. Such a drive presumably would be coordinated with heavy pressure from the south by the Eighth Army and from the northwest by the First Army.)

With the Mediterranean behind them—and not very far behind—Rommel's troops were grouped at the key passes into the bridgehead along a line leading from Enfidaville, near the east coast, to Djebel Bou Hadjar, 32 miles to the southwest, and then to Cape Serrat on the north coast.

Enfidaville, astride the new front, had the character of a "no-man's land," while Djebibina, 17 miles west of Enfidaville, was drawn into the front line of the battle.

Contrary to reports abroad, there was no information available here to indicate that Rommel already had started to evacuate certain of his forces. Heavily armed power barges, which have been used since December to bring in tanks and supplies, could be marshalled for an evacuation, it was pointed out, but there was no evidence this had been done.

139 Planes Destroyed

Of the 150 axis aircraft destroyed since Saturday, 134 were big transports of the type used to haul fuel and supplies to Rommel's troops. They also could be used for evacuation of troops.

While the remaining axis air bases in Africa under almost continual attack by allied air forces, competent sources cautioned

BLOOD DONOR TOTAL HITS 406

Marion's 3-Day Showing Is Called Best Among Cities of Comparable Size.

Mothers and fathers, brothers and sisters and other friends and relatives of Marion county men in the service donated a total of 406 pints of blood to the American Red Cross blood bank during a three-day collection period which ended yesterday in the basement of the Epworth Methodist church.

Yesterday's final collection, not the highest in the three-day period, totaled 135 pints, pushing the grand total well over the 303-pint mark set when the collection unit was in Marion in January.

Dr. J. A. Maxwell, in charge of the unit, told Marion Red Cross workers yesterday the unit would visit Marion within the next two months to start a third collection. Pleased with the turnout of Marion county donors, Dr. Maxwell said the current collection was the best made in any town of comparable size since the first of the year. Only Columbus, he said, has surpassed Marion in total donations.

A total of 151 persons volunteered for donations yesterday but because of colds, high or low blood pressure and various other reasons 16 were rejected. A total of 59 rejections were made in the three days among the 465 who volunteered donations, Miss Esther Guthery, chairman of the staff assistants and in charge of the registration, said.

Miss Guthery said plans for the third collection will begin immediately and registrations will be accepted at the Marion county Red Cross chapter office on the second floor of the McNeal-Wolford building on West Center street.

In announcing plans for the third drive, Dr. Maxwell said a quota of 170 collections a day would be set up for Marion. He pointed out that in the second collection Marion went over the top by 26 persons, the original quota being 440 persons for the three days.

Engineer Depot Expanding

New Construction Work Under Way; Victory Gardens Started on Site by Depot Workers.

Facilities of the Marion Engineer Depot are being expanded, with several separate projects now under way.

The administration building is being enlarged substantially by the addition of a wing at the east end. An assembly hall is being constructed at officers' quarters, a new guard building is under construction and railroad facilities, including the rails and roundhouse, are being extended.

The depot has its own field hospital, located on the 1 rounds. It is a small but well equipped unit in charge of Mrs. Mary Miller and Mrs. Margaret McGonagle, both nurses. Dr. F. W. Rea is contract surgeon, visiting the site regularly and available on call for emergencies.

Lieut. Col. C. E. Shaffer, commanding officer at the depot, said employes are taking advantage of the offer of use of depot land for victory gardens. Sixty-two garden plots have been started with Capt. Vincent D'Annunzio in charge of the entire project.

Guard facilities at the depot have been increased with a total of eight war dogs now augmenting the regular guard personnel. The dogs, especially useful at night, work with patrol members in policing the grounds against possible intruders.

Several new officers have arrived at the depot recently. They include Second Lieut. J. W. Beall of the air corps, who came from Alabama; Capt. Demp Thompson of the corps of engineers, who came from Birmingham, Ala.; Capt. Paul Anderson of the corps of engineers, from Camp Breckenridge, Ky. Recently transferred from the depot to Patterson field was First Lieut. F. E. Pannard of the air corps.

DAVIS PRAISES WORK OF WAR REPORTERS

Declares They Give Americans Good Picture of War.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Elmer Davis, director of war information, said yesterday the bravery of American correspondents and the enterprise of American newspapers, press associations, magazines, radio, and newsreel organizations had given the American people frank and complete information about the war.

"The gallantry of these reporters and photographers is akin to that of our fighting men, but it is also a thing apart," Davis said in a statement. "For they don't fight—and they can't fight back when, as it happens so often, their own lives are jeopardized.

"Their mission is to mirror for us at home something of what our fighting men are doing for us. Their service is one to which we owe much, to which we will owe even more until we have achieved a victory based in part on the understanding they give to us."

Among correspondents singled out for praise by Davis were such Associated Press men as these:

Harry Crockett, who lost his life when a British vessel was torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

Larry Allen, who was taken prisoner off Tobruk last September, and now is a veteran of war in Asia.

Taylor Henry, [illegible] part of Vichy "[illegible] machine of France [illegible] questioned by the Nazis.

Vern Haughland, who, for [illegible] past out of an Army hospital [illegible] New Orleans, for six weeks fought his way through the mountain jungle before, emaciated, fever-racked and delirious, he crawled to a remote mission station.

Charles McMurtry, [illegible] to the Navy in the Solomons [illegible] who suffered severe burns when a Japanese bomber crashed into a United States aircraft carrier on which he was stationed.

Charter Members of Grange Honored

A program honoring charter members of Salt Rock Grange was given Tuesday night in the Grange hall. Organized April 13, 1928 with 22 members, the Grange has grown to a membership of 109. A history of the organization was given by a charter member, Lester Watts, minutes of the first meeting were read by Lillian Griswold and charter members responded to roll call with brief remarks. A letter was read from a member in Lima. A song, "How Firm a Foundation," dedicated to the charter members and sung by the Grange, preceded the program. A short history of the first Salt Rock Grange organized Jan. 30, 1874 was given by Miss Georgia Smith, who also talked on the birthday anniversary of Thomas Jefferson whose home in Virginia she has visited. Janie Bishop gave a reading on Easter. Grace Hughes and Doris Ulmer sang "He Lives" and Mary Louise Cook and Doris Ulmer played a piano duet, "Easter Morn." Folk games were played and refershments served. The Grange voted $25 toward a sound projector which the Morral school plans to buy. Two applications for membership were received. Play night will be held at the school Friday night and an Arbor day program will be given by the Grange April 27.

PRESSES FOR ACTION ON SHARE-RIDE BILL

Measure Would Relieve Drivers of Accident Liability.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—Sen. John Stephenson (R-Columbiana) said today he would press for quick action on his bill to exempt motorists from liability for the injury or death of passengers in "share-the-ride" programs.

The proposed legislation, introduced yesterday, is tagged "emergency" so it would become effective immediately upon enactment. Otherwise its operation would be deferred for 90 days.

Stephenson said last week's decision of the Ohio supreme court, holding that "share-the-ride" drivers were responsible for their passengers' safety, threatened to disrupt programs providing transportation for thousands of industrial workers.

Automobile owners, he commented, would be hesitant to "give a lift" to others in view of the risk of paying damages in event of an accident.

His bill does not exempt from liability operations involved in accidents because of "wilful or wanton misconduct."

The Stephenson bill defines a "share-the-ride" program as "transportation, with or without compensation, of a group of persons riding together voluntarily or under an arrangement made in accordance with regulations of a governmental agency."

The senate also ... measure to ... Scheduled today ... fation increases ... of the state and ... fense councils.

The functions of the state council, now restricted to ... coordinating local defense activities, would be extended to ... coordinating, directing and supervising" them.

The state and local councils also would be empowered to ... pend traffic and lighting laws ... emergencies.

A ... penalty of a $... ... 60 days in jail would be imposed for anyone violating ... defense regulations.

The senate yesterday passed and sent to the house a bill by Senator Maurice W. Lausche (D-Mahoning) requiring state ... of scales to establish a program for rehabilitation of Ohio war veterans.

The house voted to permit co-operatives to add services to their sales activities but refused to allow them to distribute profits to ... patrons who are not cooperative members.

From where I sit . . .
by Joe Marsh

John Trumbull, our postmaster, looks up from his newspaper yesterday and says: "I see they caught another one o' them so-called 'gang-lords' of the Prohibition era.

"Wonder how long it's going to take us to wipe out the evil Prohibition left behind . . . not to mention the billions of dollars it cost the people?"

Well, John's right o' course. Hard to believe America could ever pass a law like Prohibition.

But from where I sit it's a big consolation—now that Prohibition is over—to see how moderation and tolerance have grown up in its place.

Nowadays, if a man enjoys a friendly glass of beer or two after a day's work, he not only can do it in clean, respectable surroundings—but he knows that no bootlegger or gangster is making a red cent on it.

Most Damaging Admission

MORE telling in its effect on the morale of Italians than their rapidly approaching defeat in North Africa must be the repetition in communiques of the official reason. The United Nations, according to Berlin and Rome, have superior strength.

They achieved this officially admitted superiority on the shores of a sea supposedly controlled by Italy's navy and Germany's air force. The war material and troops had to be brought across an ocean supposedly controlled by German submarines. The land action in Africa was successful, moreover, against the most famous of German generals and possibly the best equipped German troops.

The Axis is sustaining wholesale losses in prestige as it prepares to bring its losing bid for control of Africa to a disastrous conclusion. German and Italian militarists have admitted to their own people that in the one theater of war where everything seemed to favor the Axis, the United Nations have achieved superiority in manpower and equipment. It is, next to the fiasco in Russia, the most damaging admission of the war.

The War Cost Assumption

DISCLOSURE of the treasury's financing program—two more drives this year to raise $25,000,000,000 apiece following the current drive to raise $13,000,000,000—should puncture any and all illusions about the need for holding the line against inflation.

The treasury's borrowing program assumes that during 1943 there can be taken from the pockets of the American people and the vaults of their banks $70,000,000,000 worth of credit. On top of this, $30,000,000,000 will be removed by taxes.

The program is meaningless without stabilization. The War Bonds that must be bought and the taxes that must be paid both come out of the difference between earning power and the cost of living. If the latter cannot be kept down, the difference disappears; there is no way on earth to make earning power stay ahead of inflation. Thus, the whole plan for financing the war rests on the assumption that it can be borne by citizens who earn more than they need to spend on the cost of living.

Democrats' Turn Now

IN LINE with President Roosevelt's policy of inflation control, the Democratic majority in congress now has responsibility for a law authorizing collection of income taxes at the source.

This is the reform that Republicans tried to push through in the ill-fated Carlson bill, which was steam-rollered by the Democratic majority operating under at least the tacit consent of Mr. Roosevelt.

It is probable that the Democrats will revive the idea, give it a new name, camouflage it, explain carefully that its similarity to anything the Republicans might have thought of previously is purely coincidental and try to push it over as a Democratic tax reform.

If that happens, the Republicans will have no alternative. They will have to join their Democratic brethren in approving a reform long overdue on a basis of convenience to the taxpayer but not imperative as a means of getting spending power into the treasury before it gets into the inflationary spiral. And in due course of time the same Democrats who went down the line on one side of the issue will come back up the line on the other side. Politics can be a funny business sometimes.

Bright Spot

THE food distribution administration of the department of agriculture reports in its publication "Marketing Activities" that all is well on the vitamin front. There will be enough of the various known vitamins to supply all reasonable needs. Improvements in distribution are going to be made along the line established when bread was "fortified." These will take some of the chance out of vitamin-consuming and substitute more regularity, particularly among low income groups.

Bright spots like this are rare enough to be noticeable when they appear. As recently as 10 years ago a whole war could have been fought and perhaps won without a single thought about vitamins. But also as recently as 10 years ago a lifetime could be passed without knowing that vitamins existed. When one thinks of the chances that were taken by human beings who didn't know what dangers lay in wait for them the temptation is strong to wonder how it happens that the earth still has human beings left on it.

News Behind the News

$25,000 Salary Limit Proposal Would Cost U. S. $100,000,000 Yearly in Taxes.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 15—Mr. Roosevelt left out the most important point in the statement explaining his request for repeal of the $25,000 salary limitation. He built a case of how awful it is that anyone should make more than $25,000 a year in wartime when others are risking their lives and work for so much less. That is true enough. Then built the idea that big salaries are unfair to the poor man. The opposite happens to be true.

This $25,000 salary limitation would cost the government $100,000,000 a year in taxes. The people's treasury, the poor man's treasury, would lose that colossal sum in wartime when Morgenthau is scraping for every cent he can get. The $100,000,000 deficiency would have to be met, not by the rich, but by CIO workers and other in more taxes.

The estimate of this $100,000,000 tax cost has been furnished by Colin F. Stam, chief expert of the joint congressional committee on taxation, an impartial authority, and also the best. For better for the poor man it will now be, as the high salaried man will be permitted to earn without limit—and the treasury will tax most of it away.

Effect of Taxation

Actually, those who earn above $25,000, net after taxes, will be allowed to retain 10, 20 or 30 per cent of what they make above that figure. The government will get the 70, 80 or 90 per cent of their earnings. If it tried to get all, obviously the big movie actor, the outstanding lawyer or professional man would just earn his $25,000 and quit.

Ask me why the government made such a foolish proposal or the CIO indorsed it. I cannot answer. Perhaps, some political advantage might accrue to those espousing any action against high wage earners, even at the cost of $100,000,000 to the government in a year. True also, the average man does not stop to figure these things out.

At any rate, the move to limit salaries is now dead by congressional action. Let no one erect over its grave any false notion that it would have helped the poor man or anyone else.

Post-War Spending

While Vice-President Wallace is better known for his quart of milk a day pronouncements, he once said months ago that our military expenditures after this war would have to be "cut" to $20,000,000,000 a year. Some talk that our two-ocean Navy will have to be a four-ocean Navy and air force explains this tremendous figure—more than 20 times as much as we spent for defense in our slumbering days after the last war.

But whether defense is to cost $20,000,000,000 a year, the new debt increase bill which the President let become law without his signature because of his objection to the $25,000 salary rider, shows what a tremendously expensive government we will have. When the debt rises to $210,000,000,000, interest costs to the treasury will be more than $5,000,000,000 a year—nearly enough to run two whole United States governments in the Coolidge era.

Executive and administrative costs lately have averaged about $7,000,000,000. Consequently government—even without defense—must cost $12,000,000,000 a year, or $2,000,000,000 more than the New Dealers spent in their wildest spending year before the war.

If you add to this only 25 per cent of Wallace's estimate and place defense costs at $5,000,000,000 a year, you will have an annual federal budget of $17,000,000,000—twice the size of the average New Deal spending outlay.

Doughton on Taxes

House ways and means committee Chairman Doughton was wined and dined at home recently and, therefore, came back stronger than ever against Ruml, etc. He was angry at reports that Democratic Floor Leader MacCormack was working behind the scenes to get something out of the tax mess in a pay-as-you-go line. The situation is still inexplicable. All concerned sometimes feel that they look like bewildered children rather than tax leaders, and they are right in that conclusion, at least....

MacArthur for President

Some serious "MacArthur for president" talk is heard in Republican circles for the first time. One of the favorite sons privately lists MacArthur as his personal candidate (does not want his name used yet). What brought this talk out was the Stimson order to prevent anyone in the Army from running for a political office other than he now holds, or held when placed on active duty. The order thus helped the MacArthur idea. If anyone wants MacArthur to run for president, such an order will certainly not stop him.

After getting a fourth term organization started and putting forth the idea to the country, the administration game now is to soft pedal all talk along that line. You hear very little discussion, even in congressional cloakrooms.

Recent Months Raise Question of Freedom of Discussion in Time of War.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

NEW YORK, April 15—A number of incidents have arisen in recent months which bear upon freedom of discussion in time of war. They raise questions about which the authors of the Constitution thought deeply, and if they did not find the complete answer, the reason may well be that there is no complete answer.

But at least they stated the question, no one better than Hamilton in "The Federalist" when he said that it was necessary to combine the advantages of information and deliberate investigation with secrecy and dispatch.

There is no doubt that in military planning it is of absolutely vital importance to have secrecy and dispatch. Last summer, for example, when there was a great popular agitation for a second front, it would have been unthinkable folly for the Allied chiefs to explain their plans for the African campaign. There would have been no campaign if the different views which had to be reconciled became matters of public debate.

Casablanca Secrecy

For the same reason it is impossible to debate the plans made at Casablanca. They cover, as we know, not only Europe but the Pacific, and not one theater in the Pacific, but its many theaters; the Burmese, the Chinese, the Australian under Gen. MacArthur, the southwestern under Admiral Hurley, and no doubt several others.

It follows that no good can come from agitation in this country which appeals to the people over the heads of the combined military chieftains and endeavors to exert pressure politics upon them to change their plans.

To do this is to abuse, not to make legitimate use of, the right of free discussion in wartime. It cannot be encouraged. The American people are in no position to know the facts and to judge the timing and the scheduling of military forces. Either they must trust their military leaders or they must change them. They cannot drive them from the back seat.

This applies also to pressure politics within the United States in favor of special foreign national interests. If, for example, European boundary questions are going to be injected into American party politics, the time may not be far distant, when it will be necessary to declare that they are no concern of ours, and that if we are not permitted to use our good offices impartially, we cannot enter into local European disputes.

De Gaulle Underrated

There never was, it seemed to me, good ground for denying the expediency of maintaining relations with Vichy until our forces had been mobilized for action.

But, as the saying goes, when you go to dance, take heed whom you take by the hand. I do believe association with Vichy affected the judgment of our diplomatic agents to the point where they never judged correctly the character of the French national resistance to Vichy nor appreciated the strength of the forces which have gathered about Gen. de Gaulle.

They saw too many enemies of Gen. de Gaulle. As a result, they have treated the Fighting French as a more or less negligible and annoying faction, and this has caused bad personal relations in which on both sides feelings have been hurt.

Nor for a moment do I believe that this was intended and planned. It was one of those unfortunate affairs into which men slither without knowing quite how to get out of it. But I believe we shall get out of it because at bottom there is the same purpose.

South Rules Roost in Congress

By Jack Stinnett
Washington Correspondent.

THE other day I received a letter from a middle west editor. Its theme was this: Can you explain why so many Washington commentators consider the "rebellion" of southern Democrats so important in making legislation.

That is a legitimate question. The south even with adjoining Democratic states to the west, has a minority in population, wealth and area. Yet on the Democratic side of the aisles in both house and senate, it is the most potent single force in the legislative branch of government today.

Given any one issue which southern Democrats oppose, such as anti-lynch legislation, and there isn't a prayer to get it through. Given any other issue on which they will string along together, such as opposition to the Republican-sponsored Ruml pay-as-you-go tax plan, and it has only a ghost of a chance.

There is more to this than clique-voting. The root of it, broadly speaking, goes back to three things: (1) Our legislative branch of government is primarily a committee form of government; (2) Control of committees is based on seniority; and (3) The south, either through political wisdom or force of habit, elects many of its representatives and senators "in perpetuity."

FIVE of the first seven ranking senators come from the south or southwest. In the house, seven of the 11 oldest members in point of service come from the same area. With two exceptions in the house and three in the senate, all these men are Democrats.

I don't know one of these Democrats in either chamber who isn't chairman of some important committee or otherwise a leader in the majority ranks, entrusted with sponsoring much administration-approved legislation or leading the fights against that not in favor.

Of the 33 standing committees in the senate, 19 have southern Democratic chairmen. These include such powerful committees as rules (Byrd of Virginia); agriculture ("Cotton Ed" Smith of South Carolina); appropriations (Glass of Virginia); finance (George of Georgia); foreign relations (Connally of Texas); military affairs (Reynolds of North Carolina).

To try to summarize the situation in the House would take too much space, but it won't hurt to mention a few committee chairmen: Agriculture (Fulmer of South Carolina); military affairs (May of Kentucky); naval affairs (Vinson of Georgia); appropriations (Cannon of Missouri); and ways and means (Doughton of North Carolina). Doughton, throttling for the time being at least reconsideration of pay-as-you-earn income taxation, has just given the country a beautiful demonstration of the power of the committee chairman over legislation. If he doesn't like it, a proposal can be given the kiss of death before congress ever gets a crack at it.

ON THE most important rules committee, the chairman is Rep. Sabath of Illinois but the first four ranking Democratic representatives under him are Cox of Georgia, Smith of Virginia, Clark of North Carolina, and Dies of Texas.

These are some of the key men who carry the sledge when it comes to hammering out legislation sponsored by the administration or any of its departments and agencies.

These also are the men who might (or some might not, I'm not making any allegations) answer the rebel yell if the southern Democrats really went into open revolt, as several southern political leaders have threatened.

Headhunters' Army

By The Associated Press

LONDON—On the remote Assam-Burma border, British officers command an army which the India Office says is unique in all Britain's military history.

Its soldiers are fierce tribesmen who not so long ago considered headhunting the only proper occupation of a real heman. Recruited from the Naga hill country and forests along the eastern and southeastern frontier of Assam, British India province, and from the "Chin" territory along the Chindwin river south of Manipur province, they know their jungles and hills as the householder knows his home.

The force, operating along the 800 miles of the Indo-Burma frontier, ranges far down the rivers and valleys of Burma. Outposts are scattered throughout the Naga hills—where the mountains sometimes rise 10,000 feet into the air—and the Chin regions.

Seam Squirrels

In Our Last War the Soldiers All the Exercise Needed Just Sitting and Scratching.

By DAMON RUNYON

ANOTHER of my old soldier readers, cussing generals, says he recalls but one gone but never unaltered pleasure that was a plumpish, one starrer, or brigadier that he spied through the cracked window of a weatherbeaten old chateau in Menou, France, one hot day in July, 1918.

Stripped to the waist, my reader says, unaware that he was being watched, the general there engrossed in a sport that will be remembered by nearly all those who served with the American expeditionary forces was hunting. His quarry was the seam squirrel, a creature which abounded in every section of France during World war I and was eagerly pursued by enlisted men, though it was not generally known that higher officers also sought the game.

But the general, according to my reader, seemed to be as expert as the craftiest private. He had his underwear off and was quietly sneaking up on his prey in the seams of the garments, where as the veterans will recall, the little squirrels found food and shelter. The general was a sporting gentleman, too. He would not massacre 'em settin' but would flick 'em with his finger and when they went into full flight would light out after them and, with the view halloo and sounding the tantivy, he ran them to earth.

MY READER says this scene is one of his treasured memories of the last war because it proved to him that generals were human after all. Besides, he says, he learned something in technique from the plump brigadier that he later turned to good account. He used to try to trap the squirrels between the thumb and forefinger from the outside when their gentle stirrings apprised him of their presence, instead of taking off the clothes and running them down one by one. Until he had his lesson from the general, some of the squirrels always escaped.

Of course there were many different kinds of seam squirrels in France those days. For instance, there was the flying seam squirrel which was known to leap across one army division to reach another, a fact that was established when some specimens bearing the insignia of the First division were captured by the 42nd, although the Third division, which lay in between the two, did not see hide or hair of this particular type. The flying seam squirrel was not easily apprehended. The most successful hunter of them in the A. E. F. was a chap called Hankus Pankus Gowdy who had been a catcher with the Boston Braves before entering the army and was a pretty good hitter in his baseball days. He acquired a baseball bat and at eventide when the seam Squirrels were usually aflutter, he would get out and belt 'em with the hickory stick as they flew across his path. Hankus Pankus, who is back in the war business as a captain, hit 412 against 'em, which is better than he ever did in the big leagues.

THEN there was a highly predatory type of seam squirrel, that the Germans used to leave behind them in their trenches when they retreated, instead of planting booby traps as they do now. The heavy artillery barrages which the Americans used to lay down in front of them as they advanced were not for the purpose of disturbing the Germans, as was generally supposed. They were designed to dislodge the seam squirrels in the trenches before our troops moved in.

I understand the boys in this war know little of the great field sport of their papas. They who are serving in the warmer climates wear such scanty apparel that there is little or no natural cover that the seam squirrel fancies. Furthermore, the boys move around a great deal nowadays, instead of settling down in trenches. The seam squirrels do not get a chance to locate themselves and propagate. It makes me laugh when I read about the army authorities devoting much attention to the athletic development of soldiers in these times, because the old soldiers got the same amount of exercise just sitting still scratching for seam squirrels.

So They Say—

Individual Germans are going to Dutch pastors asking for certificates that they have been correctly—and those testimonials had better be given, or else! It is clear what purpose these certificates of decency are going to serve.—Netherlands Ambassador Alexander Loudon.

Unemployables, rich or poor, will have to be toned up. We cannot afford to have any people. Idlers at the top make idlers at the bottom. No one must stand aside in his working prime to pursue a life of selfish pleasure.—Winston Churchill.

It is essential that when this war is over the United Nations should maintain sufficient force to ensure that neither Germany nor Italy nor Japan can ever again plunge the world into war.—Anthony Eden.

Provisions for the Blind

Plans already have been made for the handling of members of the armed forces who are blinded in this war. The Journal of the American Medical Association points out. The Journal says:

"Among the casualties of war few merit more immediate consideration than that given to those who become sightless as a result of their participation in the national defense. In World War I, according to available figures, less than 5,000 Americans were blinded. Thus far the number of British soldiers who have become sightless, including the men from Great Britain and the colonies, is somewhat less than a few hundred. Planning bodies, therefore, estimate that the number of Americans in the armed forces who become totally blind will not exceed a few hundred. For the past six months representatives of the Surgeon Generals of the Army and Navy, the Public Health Service, the administrator of the Veterans Administration, the General Board of Hospitalization and the ophthalmic committee of the Division of Medical Science of the National Research Council have been engaged in a study of the problem. An elaborate program has been developed to rehabilitate socially and economically those who become sightless. Sufficient funds have been provided by the Congress to meet every possible need. The plans contemplate utilization of existing agencies which deal with the blind. However, public fund raising campaigns are unnecessary since the over-all need is hardly sufficient to demand special expansion for this purpose in the service of unofficial agencies. In accordance with the executive order of the President the social rehabilitation of the blind becomes a function of the Veterans Administration and is to be handled by the Division of Education and Rehabilitation and not the medical division. Through the cooperation effort now in progress of development the rehabilitation will begin as soon as the diagnosis is made and will continue from the time of reception of the invalid by the armed forces until the man can be discharged from the Veterans Administration physically and socially rehabilitated."

500 PROPAGANDISTS WANTED IN AFRICA

...e men, mostly former ...d radio men, al... the scene. Davis ... the pamphlets they ...are and which the ...od behind German lines have been found on surrendering axis troops.

Other tasks assigned these men the OWI director told a press conference, will be the spread of propaganda among civilians behind enemy lines both in Africa and southern Europe and civilians in the allied-occupied portions of North Africa.

The propagandists wear uniforms similar to those worn by newspaper correspondents but with a different insignia. Although at the front they are under army discipline and elsewhere are under army direction, they maintain civilian status and receive from $2,600 to $8,500 annually.

Davis said he doubted whether he would be able to fill the quota of 300 because of the qualifications for experience, knowledge of foreign languages, and age.

"We try to get older men," Davis explained, "but many of the older men cannot stand the strain of action at the front."

Manpower Officials Of Area To Meet in Marion

First Ceiling Placed on Farm Work Wages

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—The government for the first time yesterday applied wage ceilings for farm work in an order applying to the asparagus harvest in five California counties.

Issued by the food administration, the order sets forth maximum wage rates which may be paid in connection with the harvest.

Officials said the rates were approximately those paid recently. The effect of the order will be to keep the rates from going higher.

Under a previous directive from James F. Byrnes, director of economic stabilization, agricultural wages or salaries under $2,400 a year were free to advance in the absence of specific orders to the contrary from the food administration.

Leasing of War Plant Land Is Completed

Leasing of approximately 5,200 acres of the Scioto Ordnance Plant site for cultivation during the current crop year was completed this week, and land acquisition representatives of the Ohio River division of the corps of engineers have closed their temporary office at the plant.

Most of the acreage went to persons who formerly owned it, and was shared by some 30 persons.

In New Orleans, store delivery trucks will only deliver merchandise valued at more than $2 to each customer, except bulky items, but one male shopper took home a child's velocipede, and didn't ask to have it wrapped.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE in 1936, Alfred M. Landon, is shown leaving the White House after a 30-minute conference with President Roosevelt. He said that the President had outlined to him a plan to raise the living standards of the underprivileged classes of the world as one of the first post war aims.

Erie Hauls Heaviest Traffic in 20 Years

CLEVELAND, O., April 15—The week ending March 27 was the heaviest traffic week in 20 years on the Erie railroad, Erie officials disclosed today. During the week, 34,141 road haul cars were loaded on line or received from connections.

This is the equivalent, during seven days, of 341 trains of 100 cars each, and in tonnage hauled compares favorably with previous peak weeks in 1929 when more cars moved, but the load was approximately 20 per cent less than the load in 1943.

PHONE CO. WORKERS GRANTED PAY RAISE

1,401 Employes of Ohio Bell Company Affected.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15—A national war labor board order today granted the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. authority to increase wages of 1,401 plant department employes.

The order, announced by the regional WLB, extends a Dec. 11 directive of the national board to include members of the Southwestern Ohio Telephone Workers, Inc., an independent union. The directive originally affected only members of the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers.

The ruling permits the company to:

Grant 1,209 workers $2-a-week raises, retroactive to last July 12; apply the $2 weekly increase to the progression schedule of 108 supervisory employes also retroactive to July 12, 1942; establish a $4 differential for holiday or Sunday work for 43 chief operators, effective April 6; increase evening and night work differential for 43 chief operators to equalize their differentials and those of the telephone operators they supervise, effective April 6.

The decision, prepared before President Roosevelt issued his wage stabilization order April 8, affects workers in an area including Dayton, Toledo, Columbus, Springfield, Zanesville, Steubenville and Middletown.

NEW DRAFT RULES BOON TO FARMERS

Farm Trend Noted Factory Workers.

By The Associated Press

[illegible], O., April 15 — [illegible]ing for increased [illegible] under manpower [illegible] find it easier to [illegible] on the farm [illegible] new draft classifica- [illegible] selective service and agricultural war board officials asserted yesterday.

Lt. Col. Carl G. Wahl, head of the manpower section of state selective service headquarters, said a back-to-the-farm trend has been noted among factory workers with agricultural experience and that the classifications announced Monday probably would stimulate the movement.

Elmer F. Kruse, chairman of the Ohio agricultural war board, said the changes would "tend to keep farmers and farm hands on the farms" but expressed doubt they would have much effect in getting men who left farms for war plant jobs to return to the land because of better pay in industry.

The revised draft classifications eliminated 3-B, under which Wahl said numerous farmers obtaining war plant jobs had been classified as being in essential activity, and directed local draft boards to place in 2-C men without dependents deferred by reason of agricultural occupation, and in 3-C agriculturalists with dependents.

Wahl explained that 2-C and 3-C classifications would be permanent so long as registrants so designated remained in farm occupations. He expressed belief such designations would further encourage men with agricultural experience to seek farm work.

Experienced farm workers can apply to county agricultural war board for farm placement any time prior to induction notice, Wahl explained, and the boards will retain jobs for them.

Workers quitting on farms should notify their draft boards immediately so they can be placed in 2-C or 3-C, a practice now customary with local boards, Wahl said.

Dogging It on the Deep

SOME BUNK: Seadog Sabo arouses from sleep in his own hammock in the mess deck of a Canadian destroyer.

Associated Press Features

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT — The crew of a Royal Canadian Navy destroyer claims no dog in the world can come up to their Sabo.

Sabo got his name from the word sabotage and is the result of his ability to sabotage the ship's food and the men's gear. But Sabo's claim to fame is that it has its own hammock, and likes nothing better than to sleep in it.

The dog is the proud possession of the ship's company. Originally it was a gift given to one of the crew—Seaman Earl Costello of Montreal—but the crew became so wrapped up with the new mascot they persuaded Costello to make the pup the property of the ship. Now he is Ordinary Seaman Sabo, R.C.N.V.R.

"He's a smart pup and can sure take it," says Costello, "and he showed that during our last action at sea. The big guns were booming and men were running everywhere. When it was all over someone remembered to see how Sabo had weathered the fight—he had slept in his hammock through the whole thing.

"Yes, sir," he said, "you can't scare that sailor."

President Restores Rank of Commodore

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—President Roosevelt yesterday nominated four naval captains for promotion to the new rank of commodore—the first officers to be assigned that rank on active duty since 1899.

Mr. Roosevelt only last week signed a bill restoring commodores to the naval officer system. The legislation was enacted in response to a request from Secretary Knox for a flag rank suitable for small commands.

The four nominated today are Capts. Lee Payne Johnson, 56, of Concord, N. C., Oscar Smith, 58, of Eustis, Fla., Lawrence Fairfax Reifsnider, 55, of Westminster, Md., and Robert Grimes Coman, 55, of Santa Rosa, Calif.

No Windshield Wipers Needed on New Cars

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 15—No windshield wipers will be used on post-war automobiles because of new types of glass now being made for fighting.

This was a prediction by the American Chemical Society yesterday by Dr. Gustav Egloff of the University of Products Co., Chicago. The new glass surfaces, no silica. Neither rain [illegible] will wet or cover it, he declared.

Furthermore, [illegible] probably will be proof against glare, due to new qualities of glass. At the same time the window areas will have transparent supporting posts, which do not obstruct vision.

Synthetic rubbers, Dr. Egloff predicted, will be used as shock and vibration absorbers throughout a car, giving smoother riding. He expects synthetic tires to outlast the cars.

DAY NURSERY SURVEY REPORT COMING SOON

Tabulation of 6,000 Inquiry Cards Completed.

Tabulation of the approximately 6,000 cards collected in a city-wide canvass to determine whether or not there is a need for the establishing day care for children of working mothers has been completed by the Marion Federation of the Child Conservation league and the Parent-Teacher units of the city.

Results of the tabulations will be made public in the near future, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, chairman of the day nursery committee, said today. The results will be presented to the day nursery committee, made up of representatives of city, county and civic groups and agencies, at a meeting to be held soon. Aiding the committee is Tom Fetzger, who is working on the project of day care for working mothers under the state civilian defense committee. He has been in Marion on several occasions and is expected to return at an early date to investigate the results of the survey and assist the committee in formulating its plans.

The survey was conducted last month by about 200 block leaders of the civilian defense committee, of which Roy H. Waddell is chairman.

Mrs. Strelitz and the committee are extending their thanks and appreciation to Mr. Waddell, the block leaders, Child Conservation league, P.-T.A. groups and others for their hearty cooperation and thorough work.

CITY FIREMAN HURT IN FALL NEAR HOME

Gance of the Central station, were in a car when the chief's car in which they were riding collided with a truck and the next morning Homer Davis, also of the Central station, suffered a chest injury while helping to unload hose.

Mrs. Boyd said this morning that Mr. Boyd could walk today with the aid of a cane and that he probably would return to work Sunday.

Married men between the ages of 17 and 50 who are considering enlistment in the U. S. Navy Seabees and who are unable to go to the local recruiting office at 195 South Main street were urged to telephone or mail a post card to the office for information on enlistment in the naval construction group.

Chief John J. Dugan, in charge of the local recruiting station, announced today all types of skilled and unskilled workers are eligible for enlistment but he pointed out skilled carpenters are especially needed. Ratings for many trades are available including blacksmiths, bull dozer operators, draftsmen, electricians, masons and quarry drillers.

The local office is open between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Chief Dugan also announced enlistments are still being taken for the WAVES and SPARS. He said many Marion women have been hesitant about visiting the office to inquire about the two groups. He urged possible candidates to telephone the office or to mail a postal inquiry.

Five-Inch Snow Fall Blankets Northern Ohio

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15—Five inches of snow blanketed northern Ohio early today as the mercury at Cleveland dropped to a 58-year-record low for April and icy pavements caused thousands of war workers to be late on the job.

U. S. Meteorologist George Andrus predicted slightly warmer weather—and more snow—for tonight.

Andrus said the mercury dropped to 23 shortly after last midnight, the coldest for his date since 1885.

Several traffic accidents and one fatality were blamed on the weather in Cleveland. A. B. Miles, 50, of Solon, O., fell dead here a few minutes after his car was involved in a collision.

Predicts U. S. Will Get Bases for Jap Bombing

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 15—Either by force or by consent of the Russian government, the United States will obtain use of Russia's Siberian air bases to bomb Japan, says Rev. Bernard R. Hubbard, the "Glacier Priest of Alaska."

Father Hubbard, in an address last night, gave no indication as to when the Siberian air bases might be acquired, but he declared America was in a position to "get tough" about them.

"I am certain that the United States will get those bases for day in and day out bombing of Japan," he said. "This will happen in one or two ways. Russia will give the bases to us, or we'll take them.

"The United States is at the peak of its manpower and production and is in a position to get tough. It no longer need take advice in ideology from across the Atlantic."

IMPORT OF CANADIAN GRAIN TO INCREASE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 15—All signs point toward an increased importation of grains from Canada—if railroad box cars and ships can be found to do the transporting—as meat animals on American farms eat into domestic feed stocks at a record rate, grain statisticians assert.

This opinion was based upon the latest government crop report, issued last week-end. The government's figures of stocks on farms on April 1, when contrasted by grain men with figures for January 1, showed a heavy disappearance of wheat, corn and oats. At the same time, the government reduced its estimate of 1943 winter wheat production.

Corn Stocks Disappear

Indicative of the manner in which farmers are pushing corn into hogs—a highly profitable operation at the present time—was the disappearance of 822,220,000 bushels of the grain during the first quarter of 1943. This was the largest disappearance of any three months on record, and compared with 726,816,000 bushels last year.

Disappearance of oats amounted to 379,367,000 bushels against 319,408,000 bushels last year. The government's program of making part of its own supplies of wheat available for livestock feed helped to cause a disappearance in that grain of 166,995,000 bushels against 103,664,000 bushels last year.

With farms throughout the United States rapidly expanding their livestock numbers, grain men said it was apparent that the country would have to import Canadian feed grains to augment the domestic supply. Farmers last year held back on marketing sows, which are now farrowing a bumper spring crop of baby pigs to meet the tremendous demands for meat.

One of the great difficulties in importing grains from Canada is the shortage of box cars, which are in heavy demand to carry an unprecedented out-of-season grain movement in this country, it was said.

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace...
more welcome in war work

IN letter after letter from war plants and factories, managers write in to tell how important they consider Coca-Cola in providing energy-giving refreshment for workers... in helping output and morale. Of course, workers in war plants welcome a rest-pause... with ice-cold Coca-Cola to make it the pause that refreshes.

Ice-cold Coca-Cola quenches thirst. But it goes further to add pure, wholesome refreshment that you feel and enjoy. Made with a finished art, Coca-Cola has a taste all its own... a goodness you always welcome.

Popularity with war-workers has made Coca-Cola the symbol of the rest-pause. And remember: only The Coca-Cola Company produces Coca-Cola.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

A breathing spell, a rest-pause and ice-cold Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

Bullish Market Gives Speculators Wonderful Time

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Speculation "having a wonderful time in the bullish war-time market, Brig. Gen. [illegible] observed today, as price averages advanced as much as 50 per cent [illegible] general upward trend [illegible] one year ago, the vice president of [illegible] Trust Co. said one reason the market's strength is that "almost everyone who speculated in it made profits."

"Perhaps the profits were not large, but they were consistent, and they were gained with the greatest of ease," he declared in the bank's monthly business bulletin.

"Many of the current speculators are newcomers who have no harrowing memories of margin calls. They have been having a wonderful time."

Considering other reasons for increased trading in the face of heavier taxes, lower corporate earning and decreased dividends, General Ayres continued:

"No doubt one reason for the long bull market is that people in general are increasingly confident of victory in our two wars. Probably an even more important explanation is to be found in the fact that people have more money to spend than ever before, and progressively fewer things to buy."

New Jersey has established a five-day week for all state employes to aid in conserving heat, light, power, gasoline and rubber. There will be no reduction in hours worked or volume of work, reports to the civil service assembly say.

He had been director of public relations for the Sun Oil Co. since 1931. Sent to Europe by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1907 to study railroad and waterway systems, he later served on the secretarial staffs of Presidents Harding and Coolidge. He was a native of Aledo, Ill.

Youngstown Grocer's Sales Are Restricted

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15—George Oles, colorful Youngstown grocer, was barred from selling bread, lard, prunes and canned tomatoes for the next month.

Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed, finding the 71-year-old erstwhile Youngstown mayor violated OPA ceiling regulations in an "open, deliberate, defiant and calculated" manner, also enjoined Oles from selling any other ceiling-priced food without filing maximum price schedules with the OPA.

Last Saturday the war production board denied Oles the right to make further coffee purchases until July 10, charging he had exceeded his war coffee quota by 4,500 pounds from last July to October.

The maximum penalty under the OPA action—which specifically charged Oles with violating ceilings on bread, lard, prunes and canned tomatoes—is suspension of a grocer's license for one year. The violations were conceded by the Youngstown merchant, whose annual business runs around $700,000.

Photographer Chooses Poor Time for Exposure

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, April 15—Sgt. Worden F. Lovell of Malden, Mass., a United States Army photographer, is one of the most embarrassed men in Tunisia.

Scurrying along in a jeep to catch up with an advanced unit of the Eighth Army in the Gabes area, he asked a group of soldiers in battledress for direction. Instead of answering, one of the soldiers asked him why he wanted to know.

"I was in a helluva rush and in no mood to carry on a conversation," Lovell related. "I told him so very plainly."

They swapped a few personal remarks and the soldier walked away.

"That fellow must be a sergeant the way he talked to me," Lovell remarked to a British photographer nearby.

"Oh, no," said the Briton, "that's Montgomery."

2 Hurt as Galion Taxi Crashes Into Light Pole

Special to The Star

GALION, April 15—Icy streets and blinding snow were given as the cause of an accident, Wednesday evening, when a taxi crashed into an electric light pole on a city street, here, injuring a woman and the taxi driver.

Mrs. Carl Zent is being treated at City hospital for a severe laceration over her right eye as a result of the crash. She was the only passenger in the taxi. The driver, Donald Franks, received a bruise above the right knee.

According to the police report, Franks said his car skidded on the icy pavement and crashed into the pole, breaking it off. The front end of the taxi was badly damaged. The accident occurred on South street in front of the E. M. Freese foundry, about 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Zent was taken to the hospital by Henry Levering, a passing motorist.

WLB INVESTIGATION OF STRIKE ASKED

Cleveland Plant Workers End Brief Walkout.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15 — The national war labor board was asked today to investigate and determine responsibility for the one-day strike at the main plant of Thompson Products, Inc.

The request was made by the regional WLB after Ed Hall, CIO United Automobile Workers organizer, announced the unionists voted to comply with a regional board order and return to their jobs this morning.

Hall said the unionists walked out in protest over dismissal of 12 employes Monday. The regional WLB declared its back-to-work order did not apply to the 12 discharged men, identified by Hall as union committeemen.

The union organizer maintained R. J. Thomas, international president of the UAW, had authorized the strike unless the WLB ordered the 12 dismissed employes reinstated and their discharges investigated, or recommended that the government assume control of the plant.

Ray S. Livingstone, company vice president, said only 343 employes were absent from the three shifts during the walkout while Hall declared no more than 500 passed through the picket lines.

The company produces aircraft valves.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Jobless Insurance Payments at Low Point

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—The Ohio bureau of unemployment compensation reported today payments to jobless Ohioans fell to a record low of $209,750 in March, down 91 per cent from March, 1942.

During the first 1943 quarter, the bureau paid $760,000 to claimants, 88 per cent under the $6,238,606 paid in the corresponding 1942 period.

If benefit payments continue at the same level for the rest of the year, administrator Herschel Atkinson, Jr., said, 1943's total payments might not exceed $3,000,000, less than half the interest which the state's bulging unemployment compensation fund will draw during the year.

BRICKER FIGHTS TO REPEAL TAX

Governor Turns on Heat To Force Action on Food Levy Measure.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 15—Reports that Gov. Bricker is "turning on the heat" to obtain repeal of the sales tax on food were coupled today with a disclosure the state highway department was helping him.

The Ohio State Restaurant association meanwhile distributed thousands of cards listing the legislators who opposed the repeal. The cards went to restaurants and hotels throughout the state, for circulation among their customers.

The bill, slackening the sales tax on food consumed in hotels and restaurants, was defeated last week when Republican members of the house of representatives voted in caucus not to reconsider it after it had been approved by the senate.

Turns On Heat

A legislative lieutenant of the Bricker administration, while declining to be quoted by name, said the governor was "turning on the heat" against the Republicans who opposed the bill.

The governor's office said the bill was by no means dead. Opponents still insisted the measure could not be passed.

The highway department's outlay into the controversy was disclosed by Senator Fred G. Reiners, Republican of Hamilton. He displayed a letter, addressed to "all contact men" in the department, over the name of A. A. Hoppingarner, public relations director.

The letter listed seven bills pending in the legislature and said "this information may help you in discussing proposed legislation with your chairmen and legislators."

The bills, besides the sales tax repealer, included:

To fix a 52-hour week for women and minors, a senate measure over which labor and employers have been skirmishing for weeks.

To extend the 65 per cent tax on public utilities to April 30, 1945, on which action has been completed, and

To authorize the highway director, at his discretion, to keep secret his engineer's estimates on project costs until bids are opened.

Sours Confirms Letter

Highway Director Hal G. Sours confirmed the letter had been sent and said his department had a right to interest itself in legislation.

He added that the department had no "contact men"; that the letter was sent to public relations directors of the 12 state highway divisions.

Senator Reiners called attention to the letter in opposing the highway estimates bill, which the senate passed, 21 to 11. The five-member Democratic minority and six Republicans voted "No."

Proponents told the senate authority for the director to keep estimates a secret would stimulate bidding by contractors, reduce costs of projects and bring Ohio into conformity with the practice of 46 other states.

The senate struck out a provision, inserted by the house, to prohibit the director from awarding contracts on bids which exceed the engineer's estimates by more than 10 per cent. The bill must return to the house for consideration of the senate change.

Reiners declared that "under this bill the director could suspend the laws and let contracts for 50 per cent more than the engineer's estimate."

CONSTIPATION HAD ME DOWN

Constipation really had me on the ropes. I'd take a medicinal laxative and get relief — but soon, the old trouble would return all over again.

It was constipation due to lack of "bulk" in my diet—like so many folks suffer from. So—I began eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. It's a swell breakfast cereal, and it got directly at the cause of my constipation and corrected it.

If your constipation is due to lack of "bulk," why don't you try ALL-BRAN? Eat it regularly, drink plenty of water, and—"Join the Regulars"! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek, Michigan.

HELENE REYNOLDS
Wearing Sacks Model

Associated Press Features

HOLLYWOOD — Helene Reynolds, an actress, came to Hollywood with a background of society and wealth, but she decided to learn to sew.

Result... Many garments for war relief agencies, and several sewing jobs on the Reynolds personal wardrobe.

One of these cost 35 cents. It was a sports dress made out of ordinary tow-sacking. The material cost 10 cents, the pattern 25 cents.

Miss Reynolds, a pretty blond, had an evening gown that cost $350 four years ago. She transformed the top into a bolero, and with a touch or so to the long skirt, made the dress into a new frock. At least, it looked new enough to fool her friends.

She was proud of her work on the evening gown—

"But I'm more proud of that 35 cent sports dress. I call it my 'Tow-Saks Fifth Avenue.'"

SHIP PROGRAM LAUNCHES ROW

Behind the Scenes Battle Develops in Navy Department Over Control.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—Another report...

...shifted from offense to defense" and new ...America will champion ...of little countries, a ...quarrels composed the ...olidly today while the ...drive rolled on past the ...-billion-dollar mark.

...bubbles centered on ship... ...tom, postwar plans, taxes ...funds.

...and-the-scenes struggle ...the Navy department ...shipping administration ...over the auxiliary ship... ...on was disclosed by the ...naval committee in recommending 1,000,000 tons of new vessels.

The Navy had requested money for the tonnage from the budget bureau, but was turned down with notice the WSA would get the cash and build the ships. It protested the change in policy, and the committee drafted a measure authorizing the construction, without the usual budget bureau recommendation. The committee also asserted such a policy shift now would be catastrophic, would make the Navy a "pensioner" of WSA and prevent congress from fitting Navy needs "in an orderly manner."

Interest in Little Fellow

Meanwhile, peoples of small nations the world over had it straight from Secretary of State Hull that Uncle Sam would continue to look out for the little fellow. Speaking before the Pan American Union last night, Hull vigorously advocated worldwide adoption of the good neighbor policy as a sort of global magna charta. He stressed the importance of the principles "on which the solidarity of this hemisphere is based," and added pointedly that these principles "are no exclusive property of the continents of the Americas..."

His obvious reference to international postwar planning had a reverse parallel in the statement of Sen. Hiram W. Johnson (R-Calif), one of the original senate "irreconcilables" who defeated American adherence to the League of Nations after the last war. A member of the senate foreign relations committee which will pass on several pending resolutions involving senate commitment on postwar world collaboration, Johnson told reporters:

"How can we possibly tell what conditions will be when this war ends? It is foolish to say now what we will do. This matter should not have been brought before the senate at all."

Ruml Plan Again

Seven Republican members of the finance committee sought to dynamite the in-again-out-again Ruml plan from the house ways and means committee, lighting the fuse with an indorsement of the skip-a-year system for putting income taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis. Rep. Knutson (R-Minn), mainspring of Republican support of the plan recently rejected in the house, 215 to 198, said the action "gives us grounds for asking" recall of the tax measure from the committee.

Committee troubles also plagued the $707,040,844 agriculture department appropriation bill for the fiscal year starting July 1, with the appropriations and agriculture committees fighting for jurisdiction. The former wrote in provisions for immediate abolition of several farm benefit programs and the latter group protested the move invaded its field and violated the ban against writing legislation into an appropriation bill.

The agriculture committee won a major victory when the rules committee ordered floor procedure by which any contested point could be ruled out by a successful point of order—but there were warnings the same procedure could trim other items, stripping the measure, and a threat that passage might be delayed indefinitely.

Fierce, but Short Battle Ahead in Axis Last Stand

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

With Rommel and his battered but still dangerous army finally corralled behind the strong outer defenses of the great circle of hills which shield the last axis stand about Tunis and Bizerte, we have the makings of one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

All the visible elements of a fierce struggle are present. However, there's one invisible factor which may or may not be lacking—the will on the part of the axis forces to fight to a finish. That's what the impending conflict means—death or surrender—for there's little hope for the escape of any great number of the Rommelites by sea or air.

The early indications are Hitler has ordered Rommel to make a stand. The Nazi propaganda department seems to be preparing the folk at home to see the boys sacrificed on the altar of the fuehrer's paranoic ambition to conquer the world. They are told there will be no Dunkerquesque attempt to remove the troops by sea.

Will They Take It?

Well and good, but who guarantees the 200,000 choice of axis troops will stand up to any such order? The fact is isn't good between the Italians and the Germans, and the Italians are especially sore at being made the goats for rear-guard defense jobs recently.

Then we have this aspect not long ago while in Africa I was talking with one of the most famous of the allied generals, and he said to me:

"The Germans are fine soldiers, but there is a time, I believe, when they crack up."

Now we have no reason to say a German soldier wouldn't defend his home and hearth to the death, or he is brave. During the last war I encountered instances of mass "suicide" of German troops under orders. However, Tunisia isn't the fatherland or yet Italy. Many unprejudiced military experts hold that the German cracks when he reaches the point where he can see there's no hope of holding out.

The chances are there will be a terrific battle—and we must be prepared for heavy allied casualties—until the axis forces finally realize there's no chance of their being evacuated. Then one would expect surrender, rather than fight to a finish.

Nazi General Von Arnim, who has been in command in the Tunis-Bizerte area until Rommel raced in, has had long months in which to prepare strong defenses for the contingency which now has arrived. The chances are he also has considerable military supplies for the emergency.

Fierce, But Short

Still, the allies have great superiority not only in number of troops but in all categories of the fighting arms. We have ahead of us a hard job, but it shouldn't be a long one.

Rommel is in the position of one of his Libyan predecessors of antiquity—Antaeus, the wrestler. Antaeus, who was son of the earth, couldn't be thrown because every time he touched his mother earth he received new strength. Finally along came Hercules and crushed him by holding him up so he couldn't hit the ground. Well, Montgomery had a lot of goes at Antaeus Rommel in the Libyan desert until at last the [illegible] and the marshal remaining [illegible]

The axis undoubtedly will defend Italy stoutly but, as previously remarked in this column, Italy [illegible] weak spot and it seems [illegible] to believe Hitler already has discounted the loss of that country. Mentally, at least, he has made the unhappy duce a present. The city has a Fascist "good-bye" which, as [illegible] recall it, was "forever."

Report Hungary Pulls 200,000 from Russia

By The Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, April 15—Hungary is pulling an estimated 200,000 men out of axis ranks on the Russian front, it was said in usually reliable quarters today, despite Hitler-Mussolini demand that the little nation yield even more troops and workmen.

An estimated 40,000 men, remnant of the shattered First Hungarian Army that fought in the Soviet winter and the reserve Second Army which served as occupation troops, are being withdrawn, these sources said. Moreover Premier Nicholas Kallay has refused axis requests for troops to help defend the Balkans until Hungary's own interests are at stake, they declared.

(A Moscow broadcast of an Istanbul dispatch said that hundorganized Germans in the Balkans were being supplied automatic rifles and guns by the wagonload on orders of Heinrich Himmler, and that a recent demonstration in Budapest calling for an end to the war was broken up.)

AUSTRALIA

Japanese ground and air units in the southwest Pacific brought this general summary of the Pacific situation from highly placed spokesmen:

The monsoon season is at hand in Burma and with its beginning all important fighting ceases. Not being under pre-sure in Burma, the Japanese almost certainly will shift some air units from there into their island are opposite northern Australia.

There already has been a marked increase in enemy air strength in the southwest Pacific, as evidenced by the recent 100-plane raid on American positions in New Guinea and the 98-plane assault on Guadalcanal, but it is significant for the future that in both attacks the Japanese were outclassed if not outnumbered and lost much more heavily than our forces.

Main Jap Concentrations

The main enemy plane concentrations are in the northwestern Solomons, western New Guinea, the Bismarck archipelago, Timor and Amboina. These advance bases are linked to reinforcement bases in the rear by small intermediate flying fields which enable the Japanese to switch their air power quickly from one place to another.

The air field system relieves pressure on their shipping. This is of inestimable value to them, since shipping is the weakest link in their military chain.

The shipping weakness is matched to some extent by weaksponsible quarters here is that ness in airpower. Belief in replacement, the Japanese now have despite their best efforts at rea force numerically inferior to that with which they started the war. Certainly only a fraction of their aircraft carrier fleet is left whereas the comparable United States force is being steadily built up.

Diminishing rather than growing air power probably explains the intermittent nature of the enemy's heavy attacks on such forward American positions as those in Guadalcanal and New Guinea. The Japanese are unable to maintain raids of destructive size and can make them only after accumulating sufficient planes for the purpose.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, on the other hand, is reported here to have in Australia a greater air force than ever before and to be assured of a steady flow of replacements and reinforcements.

Navy leaders are reported to hold the belief the Navy's best strategy lies in striking at the head and heart of Japan — when the proper time comes.

By The Associated Press

ANKARA, Turkey, April 14 — (Delayed) — Travelers arriving from Germany today said "literally thousands" of fires were started in Berlin and [illegible] for the last RAF raid, which they described as Berlin's worst.

Some of the fires, they said, burned three days.

The British were reported to have used aerial torpedoes which blasted windows and lifted off roofs in entire districts. Some of the explosives, it was said, apparently were set with time fuses because numerous areas were blocked off for seven days.

The removal squads mostly were war prisoners promised their freedom if they did the job successfully.

The travelers said that after the March raids 70,000 were homeless in Berlin and the dead totaled at least 500.

Weekly rations were reported to be approximately six ounces of butter or margarine, 12 ounces of meat, and nine ounces of cereal. Twelve ounces of bread daily and five ounces of cheese monthly were other rations.

Ration Book No. 3 To Be Issued Soon

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—OPA officials reported today ration book No. 3 would be issued soon, probably late in July, to be used primarily for shoes, sugar and coffee as soon as book No. 1 runs out of stamps.

The No. 3 volume issue also may be used to provide a couple more months of canned goods and meat stamps, since it was designed to handle both point and unit system of rationing.

Officials said they had no intention of using the No. 3 book to ration any new commodities, but could make no promises because of the theoretical possibilities of special emergencies.

No. 3 book may be distributed by mail. The volume has two kinds of stamps. In one group are four series, one bearing pictures of tanks, another aircraft carriers, a third airplanes, and a fourth field artillery.

In addition the book has four pages of point stamps similar to the canned goods and meat stamps in book 2.

Heavy Air Batles Rage on Red Front

By The Associated Press

Soviet dispatches reported today that some of the war's heaviest air battles were erupting over the mud-bogged land front, with Red army planes successfully beating off German stabs at cities, railways and troop positions.

A Berlin radio broadcast hinted strongly the German high command was marshaling its forces for a renewal of the drive eastward, but the situation as a whole remained quiet. Moscow said yesterday the Nazis were making sharp, air-supported attacks on the Leningrad front.

REPORT ROMMEL FLIES HOME

LONDON, April 15—Reuters' Zurich correspondent said today he had received from an independent and reliable source a report that Marshal Erwin Rommel left Sicily yesterday and flew to Germany last night, accompanied by General Vittorio Ambrosio, chief of the Italian general staff.

Everyone's Responsibility

To the Readers of The Star:

The 13 billion Second War Loan is the responsibility of every one of us.

As Americans, we must lend our government every cent we can during these next few weeks. No matter how much or how little our pay checks are, each of us must do his part.

The money is urgently needed to back up our armed forces now on the offensive with the weapons they must have to win and win quickly.

We are asked to put up our money. That is a small thing to match in a small way the sacrifices our men in the armed forces are making on the fighting fronts.

Remember: They give their lives—we are only asked to lend our money.

Only you know how much you can lend. Don't wait for someone to come around and ask you to do your part.

Do it today. Do it gladly. Do it to the utmost of your capacity.

Do it knowing that upon how much you do depends to a large extent how quickly we win this war.

$90,000 for Tank

When you read about those tank battles on the desert sands of Africa, remember that one M-3 medium tank costs $90,000.

Every time a battleship fires a broadside in the Pacific, $13,500 goes up in smoke.

Those are some of the bigger items in total war.

War also calls for thousands of $55-sub-machine guns; $105-depth bombs; $150-life rafts; $740-50 caliber machine guns and $12,000-landing barges.

It takes money to win a war. Uncle Sam wants the money from you and me. He just wants to borrow it. We'll get it back—with interest.

Let's do our bit. Buy War Bonds!

Sights Are Raised in War Bond Drive

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15 — Americans today were on call to raise the sights on their help for Uncle Sam even as the intensive three-week 13 billion dollar war bond drive had garnered more than an estimated four billion in the first three days.

The treasury reports 50 million people have bought bonds since they first went on sale before the war and 26 million of them are buying more through payroll deduction plans but—

Those deductions are averaging 9 per cent of the money being earned by workers.

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau says that percentage is not enough and individuals should invest from 15 to 20 per cent of their earnings in war bonds.

Bank subscriptions to the treasury's issue of certificates of indebtedness—limited to two billion dollars—was permitted for the first three days of the drive and had to close last night.

Treasury spokesmen were so confident of the result when final returns are tabulated they said it would be a matter of telling the banks just what percentage of the two billion dollars each of them could take.

expected to make much change in retail prices, and officials said the results could be judged only on a store-by-store basis.

On cabbage, the percentage which retailers may add to wholesale cost was put at 65 per cent for independent stores with an annual business volume of less than $250,000, 54 per cent for chain stores with volume under $250,000, and 50 per cent for larger stores of either type.

On carrots, lettuce, peas, snap beans, spinach and tomatoes, the markup was set at 39 per cent for all types of retailers, although classifications were set up which may be the basis for some differentials in the future.

Retailers will be permitted to change prices, however, only once a week—on Thursdays.

SOUTHERN OPERATORS DEMAND MEDIATION

Owners Stand Pat After Rejecting "Guarantee" Plan.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Southern Appalachian bituminous mine operators [illegible] unionized northern producers in rejecting [illegible] the government [illegible] afraid [illegible] on their request the soft coal wage dispute be referred to the war labor board.

Accepted in principle by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, the government's proposal would guarantee a six-day work week for the nation's 450,000 soft coal miners with time and a half pay for the sixth day.

In announcing agreement to his plan in lieu of the union's demand for a $2 a day wage increase, Lewis said yesterday the miners would not abandon their other demands for portal-to-portal pay and elimination of certain wages borne by the miners.

Edward R. Burke, president of the Southern Coal Producers' association, said in reference to the proposal:

"We feel that it amounts to this: That every man would be granted six wage for the six-day week, whether he was ready or willing to work, whether the mine had to be shut down, or whether he could work or not—and we can't agree to that."

Akron Transportation Workers Vote To Strike

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 15—Members of the CIO Akron Transport Workers union voted to call a strike Sunday that would tie-up the city's transportation system, and Union President William Wright said today "the boys mean business this time."

Wright said the dispute involved contract negotiations with the Akron Transportation Co. He said the union sought $1.25 an hour for bus drivers with a year's experience as against 86½ cents an hour provided in a contract that expired April 1.

P. V. C. See, general manager of the company, said drivers had received wage increases of 17.6 per cent since Jan. 1, 1941, and added that President Roosevelt's "hold the line" order of April 3 apparently forbade any boosts above the 15 per cent limit set in the little steel cost-of-living formula.

The dispute was certified to the WLB yesterday.

The article continued: "Arrests of so-called state enemies increase constantly  and the fear of foreign workers is growing. People think they might join in a Communist uprising **."

Support Navy, Knox Asks of Bond Buyers

By FRANK KNOX
Secretary of the Navy

Written for The Associated Press

The young men of the United States Navy are in battle from the South Seas to the Mediterranean. Their battle will not cease until the hour of victory. Many of them will not live to see that victory. Yet, without exception, they feel that life itself is not too great a sacrifice for the maintenance of the freedoms which we all hold dear.

We at home are called upon for no such sacrifices. Any burdens which we bear are light indeed compared to those of our fighting men. Yet there is one small way in which we can ease our debt of gratitude.

We can see to it that no man dies because of lack of ships or planes or guns or any of the other weapons of war so essential to victory. We can do this by supporting the second war loan drive now in progress.

bombers were knocked out of action.

The next day some 100 Japanese planes struck at Port Moresby, main allied base on the southeast coast of New Guinea, and 37 enemy planes were claimed as victims.

A special communique, unusual for Gen. MacArthur's headquarters, announced the raid early yesterday but gave no details. Later it was learned Australians flying P-40's and American pilots in P-38 planes, aided by anti-aircraft batteries, accomplished the dispersal of the Japanese air armada.

Allied bombers returned to Hansa bay on the north New Guinea coast and found one 6,000-ton cargo vessel left from a previously-attacked enemy convoy. Three direct hits at low level set it ablaze and two hours afterward it was seen sinking by the stern, headquarters said.

Gen. Kenney Hopes for More Planes

By The Associated Press

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, April 14—(Delayed)—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, speaking for publication today for the first time since he returned from his mission to Washington, told reporters "I'll be pleased when we have the Jap planes outnumbered five to one."

Fighters and bombers hummed overhead as he talked with reporters at his advanced headquarters.

An air raid alarm sounded just as he concluded with the statement: "there is no indication now that the Jap wants to pick up his bags and go back to Japan." The allied air commander strolled out to look for the raiders, but they never showed up.

"In daily combat," General Kenney said, "we are doing pretty well, but the Jap has too many airplanes around to suit me. I don't like to be outnumbered. When we shoot down a plane the Jap replaces it in a few days. When he shoots down one of ours, the replacement has to come a long way and it takes time.

"We are forced to shoot down four or five to one to keep the score straight. That's a pretty heavy burden on the boys. I'd like to tell them they could shoot down one for one and still be all right."

Marion, Richwood Boys Enlist in Navy

Three Marion boys, Norman R. Gardner, Carl N. Burdett and Francis Edward Ambrose and Louis D. Doyle of Richwood were enlisted in the U. S. Navy Wednesday at the naval recruiting station in Toledo.

Shortly before going to Toledo the four youths were joking about the name "barber bait" which they acquired in enlisting in the Navy. Two of the boys, Norman Gardner and Louis Doyle, decided to do something about the name they had received. A trip to a local barber took care of that, in fact, Chief John J. Dugan, local recruiting officer, said today the haircut was a little more than "regulation."

Reporting to Chief Dugan yesterday the two youths were quite happy they had jumped the gun on the Navy barber, but Chief Dugan dispelled the cheer when he said, "It's a waste of money, boys. You will visit the Great Lakes barber for a trim anyway."

Chief Dugan explained that among the first steps of a new recruit is a visit to the barber upon reaching the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's spring! At least the calendar says so. And that means many of us certain long-awaited special things to eat—as well as a new bonnet. But in this spring of 1943, with asparagus and peas selling at incredible prices, or not obtainable at all, we've got to find substitutes to give us the same lift without straining our pocket-books or the scanty supplies available. (We'll turn last year's bonnets backward, perhaps, and put on a new flower—but there's nothing to be done with last year's asparagus and peas!)

A salad is a spring-like thing to eat. It also is most nutritious, easy to prepare and inexpensive. Any meal is complete if it contains one hearty hot dish, a salad, bread and fruit or a sweet.

The basic salad is, of course, a green one, properly served with a good French dressing. The taste and appearance of a green salad, however, are capable of many changes. Every kind of edible green thing is good in a salad. Have you ever, for instance, used raw spinach or kale in a salad. Have you ever used dandelion greens or escarole? Each of these has a different green tint and a taste distinct from all the rest. Salad greens, of whatever kind, should always be washed, carefully drained and put away, covered, in the refrigerator as soon as they're brought into the house.

Many other raw vegetables are good in salads, as well as those known as "salad greens." Carrots, celery, scallions, cabbage, cauliflower, peppers, broccoli flowers, radishes and, of course, tomatoes all combine well with each other and each is good alone with greens.

A cooked vegetable salad is the best way to preserve the vitamin goodness of left-over vegetables. Reheating destroys at least some of the food value. Almost all cooked vegetables combine well with each other and with raw vegetables, too. French dressing or mayonnaise is good on such salads, but the mayonnaise makes it seem, at least, a heartier dish. Or, serve a salad of raw or cooked vegetables with sour cream as dressing and a good grinding of fresh pepper over the top—delicious!

Cottage cheese, which is unrationed, is an excellent salad base. It needs a little smoothing out with thin cream, and most people like a little salt in it. It's good just with chopped chives or scallions in it.

SHEEP POPULATION SAME
By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. — Ohio will maintain a sheep population of about 2,250,000 head in 1943, approximately the same as last year, Lawrence K. Bear of the Ohio State university animal husbandry department estimated today. Preliminary reports from other states indicate there will be a slight decrease in the number of sheep raised throughout the nation, he said.

Take the very best in food value, add a large dash of thrift or economy, and what have we that we can serve for a meal? A Pork Liver Loaf is the answer if you didn't know. Let's serve it today.

Menu

Pork Liver Loaf, Baked Sweet Potatoes, Apple-Cabbage Salad, Buttered Beets, Deep Dish Rhubarb Pie, Coffee or Substitute.

Pork Liver Loaf

Four slices bacon, ½ onion, ¼ c. chopped parsley, 2 eggs, 1½ lbs. pork liver, 2½ c. soft bread crumbs, 2 tsps. salt, ⅛ tsp. pepper.

Let liver slices stand in hot water for 10 minutes and then grind with onion and bacon. Add eggs, crumbs, parsley and seasonings and pack firmly into loaf pan. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees F. Serves 6 or 7.

Deep Dish Rhubarb Pie

One lb. fresh rhubarb, ½ c. sugar, pastry for 1 crust, 1 tbsp. margarine, ½ tsp. cinnamon.

Wash rhubarb and cut in 1-inch pieces in deep baking dish, cover with sugar, sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with butter cut into small bits. This amount of sugar may not be sweet enough to suit your family, so you can add more or some corn syrup or honey if you prefer.

Catering for Many Eaters

By ALICE DENHOFF

Many a housewife whose culinary efforts never went much beyond feeding her immediate family and a few guests, now is coping with quantity cooking either for canteen work or for service affairs. So here are some recipes that may be of interest to those of our readers who may be doing this type of volunteer work. Sandwich fillings may be made well in advance and kept refrigerated until needed.

Egg Salad Filling

Here are two fillings that have proved their popularity. The first is for an egg salad sandwich, a good choice. To make 3 quarts of mixture for 100 sandwiches using 2 teaspoons [illegible] add 1¼ cups [illegible] 2 tablespoons [illegible] one tablespoon [illegible] ¾ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup [illegible] scalded milk [illegible] 4 quarts of milk or [illegible] cups of water. Cook over rapid boiling water for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add 1½ cups liquor from sweet pickles. [illegible] Mixture thickens as it cools. Add slightly 24 diced hard-cooked eggs, ½ cup [illegible] pickles, ½ cup [illegible] celery and sweet pickle, 2 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and ¾ teaspoon tabasco. Cool thoroughly before spreading on buttered bread.

Ham Sandwich Filling

For 3 quarts of minced ham [illegible] 2 teaspoons [illegible] ¼ cup [illegible] add 1¼ cups [illegible] 2 tablespoons [illegible] one tablespoon [illegible] ¾ teaspoon pepper, ½ cup [illegible] scalded milk [illegible] 4 quarts of milk or [illegible] cups of water. Cook over rapid boiling water for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Add 1½ cups liquor from sweet pickles. [illegible] Mixture thickens as it cools. Add slightly 24 diced hard-cooked eggs, ½ cup [illegible] pickles, ½ cup [illegible] celery and sweet pickle, 2 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and ¾ teaspoon tabasco. Cool thoroughly before spreading on buttered bread.

Ham and Cabbage

Chopped ham and cabbage [illegible] economical and inexpensive dish. To make 9 quarts or [illegible] portion of 2-3 cups each, cook 8 quarts (10 pounds of cabbage) coarsely shredded in [illegible] cooking salted water until tender-crisp. Add 1½ cups of [illegible] cooking tapioca, teaspoon each paprika and pepper, 1½ tablespoons salt, and one cup butter or margarine to 5 quarts cooked meat and cook over rapidly boiling water for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Place layer of the mixture in shallow baking pans [illegible] cups cabbage and 5 pounds [illegible] ham, chopped, and top with [illegible] cups mixture. Sprinkle with 3½ cups buttered bread crumbs. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 15 to 20 minutes or until brown.

Cabbage With Sausage

By BETSY NEWMAN

I should always be glad to get recipes that help you stretch your meat [illegible] and I hope you don't run out of ham and eggs. For goodness sake, why doesn't the give us something else? I figure, however, that the meat shortage is over for the duration while eggs, etc., will be fairly plentiful during the spring, summer and fall so to help you use a number of dishes that are flavorful and nourishing, I'll give you a couple of these meat-stretchers to afford variety.

SELF A&P SERVICE SUPER MARKETS

Here's Top Value for Ration Points .....Top Value for Your Money!

A&P Super Markets offer double help to America's housewives in these days of rationing. First: our wide selections of rationed items give you an unusually large choice for both red and blue ration coupons . . . to help you get the biggest values in good nutrition for your money. Second: our famous low prices assure you important savings on rationed foods . . . and all other foods, too. (Though point values are the same in all stores, prices differ . . . and it's wise to pay as much attention to prices as you do to points.) Make up a list now from the values on this page.

Shopping for foods rationed with the blue stamps and red stamps of ration Book No. 2 is not difficult at your A&P Super Market. Each rationed food on display, or stocked on shelves and in bins, is identified with a special ration-point tag next to the price tag. Red numbers mean red stamps, blue numbers mean blue stamps.

BEFORE YOU SPEND RATION POINTS, LOOK OVER STOCKS OF UNRATIONED FOODS!

If you purchase foods in fresh form, as alternates for rationed items, you can make your ration points go farther.

SHOP EARLY IN THE WEEK AND EARLY IN THE DAY!

Shopping early . . . an hour or more earlier than is your usual habit—and shopping early in the week—will make your marketing easier, more enjoyable. We must remember that point rationing demands time of both consumers and store employees—and thus if you shop during hours when stores and markets are less busy, you'll find it easier, more convenient.

KEEP RATIONED ITEMS GROUPED TOGETHER IN ORDER!

This simple procedure will save you time . . . for it will enable our cashiers to check your order quickly for the amount of the payment in ration points you will be required to make.

RATIONING IS FAIR FOR ALL!

Rationing assures each person of an equal share of available foods. It is the only fair way . . . the American way . . . to allot our Nation's good things to eat.

Woman Architect's View of House of Tomorrow

ADELAIDE KERR
[illegible] Press Features Writer:
[illegible] woman architect [illegible] about the house [illegible] men have laid out [illegible] plans. And they have [illegible] "wonderful ideas" [illegible] which are not so wom[illegible] opinion of Olive [illegible] the comparatively [illegible] young woman architects.
[illegible] that the whole world [illegible] prefabricated houses [illegible] is silly," she said, [illegible] her opinion. "There [illegible] of people who will [illegible] fabricated house is [illegible] but many won't. Men [illegible] like prefabricated [illegible] than women, for as [illegible] care less for in-

OLIVE TJADEN
Blueprints home of future

[illegible]ion will have every-[illegible]y about the house of [illegible]. It's the woman who [illegible] house from the aesthetic [illegible]ow. Lots of people will want more than a shelter, which is adequate in times of stress. They will want an individual home, which they have had the joy of building themselves."

Miss Tjaden has nothing but applause, however, for the job which men have done in streamlining that once exclusively feminine domain, the kitchen. She thinks the men did very well when they designed kitchen stoves and other streamlined features for the kitchen. She also is interested in the increased use of glass walls and wide window panes areas to admit the light and heat of the sun, though she thinks the average woman will object to "living in a gold fish bowl."

While she calls herself a "modernist," Miss Tjaden does not foresee modern houses and furniture sweeping the world like wildfire after the war.

"In Long Island, where I have designed lots of houses, you can't give away a modern house, though modern houses have been accepted in Florida and California," she said. "We found, when we struggled to get people to accept insulation, that many of them would not believe it was as good as we said, people are slow to accept new things."

As far as Miss Tjaden is concerned men have left unsolved one of the biggest problems in tomorrow's house—the problem of lath and plaster, which she says is messy, wets wood that should be kept dry and takes much time.

Miss Tjaden (forget the T and pronounce it "jodden") is a native of Brooklyn and a graduate of the College of Arts of Cornell university. She makes her practising headquarters at Garden City, Long Island, where she lives with her father and mother in a house she designed herself. She has designed a number of Long Island houses (many in English Tudor style), churches, buildings and the ultra modern Inwood Beach Club of Atlantic Beach, L. I. Miss Tjaden was the only woman included in an exhibit of the work of 40 architects held by the Architectural League in 1941.

Sports Writer Wises Up His Gardening Buddies

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., April 14—Some of the employes of the Akron Beacon-Journal have started a community victory garden.

Since many of them admit they don't know the difference between a radish-in-the-rough and a slide trombone, daily communiques are being offered on life on the soil by Sports Writer Eddie Butler, head of the project.

Rule No. 1: Get seeds and the necessary implements and materials, with suitable definitions. We present the same:

Plot: What the government does every time you get a dollar ahead.

Rake: The kind of fellow you wouldn't want your sister to date.

Hoe: Song slang used by Cab Calloway along with "hi" and "de."

Plant: A stooge who works in the audience. A shill.

Seed: Usually bears the prefix "pay." One born and raised in a country community and transplanted through mischance.

Seedling: His son.

Corn: What liquor rationing is driving us to.

Tomato: A dame.

Carrot: The way they find out that your solid gold ring isn't.

Potato: A simoleon, greenback, frogskin, one sheaf of folding money.

Lettuce: Two or more of the above.

To save more than 200 pounds of metal in each unit concrete manhole covers containing reinforcing in the form of inverted trusses have been developed by a Michigan man.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

A MOTHER'S MESSAGE

Editor of The Star: As has been my custom for several years I am sending in a letter. As the Easter season approaches it should bring to our minds more vivid than ever, the power of God. When the earth awakens and brings forth life, doesn't it thrill us to know that God is still on the Throne? When at this time we look back and see in the past year how the world has been thrown into a horrible tangle of dictatorship, war, death and destruction, yes in just a year sorrow has entered into most every home. Separation from our loved ones has brought such sorrow. But, oh the comfort we have who knows that God is and always will be King of Kings and Lord of Lords. Two of my children have been called to Heaven since I have written to your readers, so today I know they are safe and I can see them again. That is the purpose of this letter, to have you mothers, who have loved ones fighting, that we in America can serve God in freedom and truth, trust in Him who watches over even the sparrows. If we pray and live true God will protect our boys. As in the scripture Job 1:10. God had a hedge of protection around Job who loved, served and feared Him. We must believe, trust and fear God, as did Job.

There is a group of mothers in Marion who meet once each week to pray for those in the service of our country. Aren't you glad that someone is interested enough to plead protection for your son?

Salvation is free, and good people are abroad in this land of ours, holding on to the connection with God. Thank God our connection with Him has not yet been severed, nor shall it ever be as long as we are determined to fight the good fight of Faith. May God wake us up to realize the awful condition we are facing. Pray and Trust as never before, for He is coming soon to redeem His own.

Japs Finally To Be Told Location of Shangri-la.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—The full story of the American air raid on Tokyo, including the location of mythical Shangri-la, will be told soon for the first time.

Director Elmer Davis of the office of war information told reporters today that unpublished details of the raid would be released soon by the army. He added, however, he did not know whether the release would be timed for the first anniversary of the Tokyo bombing, April 18.

President Roosevelt, asked after the raid where the fliers had started from, replied Shangri-la—a mythical Utopia in James Hilton's "Lost Horizon."

AAU Asked To Restore Thorpe's Trophies

Oklahoma Legislators Start Move To Erase Tragedy of 31 Years Ago.

By JOHN CASHMAN
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK—Two members of the Oklahoma house of representatives, born American Indians, pleaded for the right to see restored to one of their race the honor and glory that was stripped from him 31 years ago on foreign shores. They asked that Jim Thorpe be returned the medals he won in the 1912 Olympics, and that his name be restored to the record books.

The plea was in the form of a petition addressed to the AAU, and should it take legal root in that athletic body with resultant return of Thorpe's medals and restoration of his name to the records, one of the saddest and least noble stories in American sports history would die an official and just death.

Thorpe is just another name to those of the present generation, but he was actually the greatest and most enigmatic figure that ever strode across the American sports scene. His life was a bottomless well of color, a brilliant series of great deeds and tragic mistakes. No one man before or after Thorpe could claim all the attributes of this superb but saddening athlete.

Football's Best

In no sport except football is there complete accord when a decision is asked on who was the greatest. In baseball, some say Cobb was the greatest; others say Ruth; still others say Gehrig. In boxing, Jack Dempsey is the all-time great to some; many choose Sullivan; Tunney, Corbett and Louis have their champions. But those who saw Jim Thorpe play football refuse to accept any other candidate as the greatest football player of all time.

Thorpe was a magnificent throwback to the age when man had to run, jump, throw and fight every minute of the day for survival. As such, he was the greatest all-around track man in the age when track interest in this country was at its peak—the first two decades of the 20th century. He came up from nowhere to qualify as America's leading entry in the decathlon and pentathlon, in the Olympic games at Stockholm in 1912. When he sailed for Sweden he was 26 years old, primarily a football player. When he completed his last event in those games, he was the world's shining hero.

The greatest athletes of all nations faced Jim at Stockholm, but he outran, outthrew and outjumped them all. In the decathlon, he scored 8,412.95 points out of a possible 10,000. He won four events in the pentathlon, and finished third in the other.

His record as viewed thirty-one years later is not sensational, but it must be remembered that Thorpe specialized in no single sport. In addition, there was a streak of inherent laziness in Jim, he never extended himself when he didn't have to.

Record Follows

Thorpe turned in the following times and distances in the decathlon: 100 meters—11.2; broad jump—22.2.3; shot put—42.5.45; 400 meters—52.2, high jump—6.1.6; 110-meter hurdles—15.6, discus—121.3.9; pole vault—10.7.9, javelin—149.11.2; 1500 meters—4:40.1.

JIM THORPE

In the pentathlon, Jim broad jumped 23.2.7; threw the javelin, 153.2.3; ran 200 meters in 22.9, threw the discus for 116.8.4, and ripped off 1,500 meters in 4:44.8.

Europe went into a frenzy over Thorpe's accomplishments. Czar Nicholas of Russia gave him a silver model of a viking ship. King Gustav of Sweden invited Jim to the royal pavilion to receive regal congratulations, but Jim begged off—he had a beer-drinking date. Therein lay Jim's tragedy; his beer-drinking dates kept him from appointments with lasting fame.

Jim returned to his school, Carlisle Institute, for his last season of football there and piled up 25 touchdowns and 198 points, still the record for one season of major competition. It was then that the ax fell on Thorpe, the greatest athlete on the face of the earth.

There are varying reports on just what team Thorpe was supposed to have played with in order to get a little spare change. Some say it was with the Rocky Mount club of the Eastern Carolina League; another report has him with Fayetteville in the Sally League. At any rate, it was discovered that Thorpe had played baseball for money, prior to his Olympic feats, and he was technically a professional. Naive Jim did not even have the guile to play under an assumed name.

AAU Explains

On Jan. 27, 1913, the AAU forfeited Jim's championships and prizes. Feeling that some explanation was in order, the AAU said Jim was a man of "humble origin, experience and education," and "only an Indian." These explana-

Thorpe Known Here

Thorpe first became well known in this vicinity as a member of the Orrang Indians, a National professional football league team which was owned by Walter Lingo of LaRue. This team was a member of the league for about four years from 1922-1926 and during this time many of the Orangs moved their families to LaRue.

Frequently since leaving the Marion area Thorpe has returned for short visits with friends in Marion, LaRue, Mt. Gilead and Galion.

DODGERS LOOK LIKE FIRST PLACE TEAM TO AP FORECASTER

Judson Bailey Picks Brooklyn To Beat Cards in National League.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 15—You may have your [illegible] pin, unadorned [illegible] such simply shows that today is Thursday, April 15, [illegible] date one on our desk [illegible] but this is the time to predict the pennant winners in the major leagues.

Like planting potatoes in your victory garden during the right phase of the moon, picking pennant winners is a delicate undertaking that [illegible] always redone as early as possible in the spring. The object is to allow plenty of time to forget the selections before the season ends.

Likes the Dodgers

For what it is worth we give you the Brooklyn Dodgers as the probable 1943 champions of the National league.

Most of the major league experts are picking the world champion St. Louis Cardinals and in deference to the observations of our brothers in the Baseball Writers Association we will concede that this year will see another close race.

The Cardinals have a good ball club, but it is not the same outfit that beat the New York Yankees four straight in the last world series. Gone are Terry Moore, the great fielder; Enos (Country) Slaughter, the great hitter, and John Beazley, the rookie pitcher who won 21 games in the regular season and two in the World series.

The Dodgers' wounds by the war have been less vital. Outfielder Pete Reiser and shortstop Peewee Reese have entered the service along with several others, but Branch Rickey has obtained experienced replacements. The team consists of veterans who are as nearly draft proof as any ball players can be.

The schedule gives the Dodgers a running start against the weak eastern clubs while the Cards are battling the tough Cincinnati Reds and Chicago Cubs in the first month of the season.

Our guess on the order of the finish is Brooklyn, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston and Philadelphia.

Reds Have Pitching

Cincinnati again has the pitching to make it a flag contender and has improved its infield by adding Eddie Miller the best shortstop in the league. But it still lacks power.

The Cubs have both pitching and power, but lack polish and finesse.

The rest of the league is strictly second division. The Pirates were fifth last year and have the same ball club. The Giants zoomed into third last year by adding first baseman Johnny Mize. Now he is gone, along with the catcher Harry Danning.

Boston has pitching and no reserves, while the Phillies have little more than a franchise for an eighth place club and a lot of energy engendered by a new owner and a new manager Bucky Harris.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

MUNCIE, Ind.—Prepared for today's opening contest of a five-game series with the doughty Detroit jungle cats, Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburgh Pirates announced he planned to use Rip Sewell, Hank Gornicki, Wally Hebert and Johnny Lanning in turn against the Chicago Cubs in the league opening series next week.

DAYTON — The Cincinnati Reds should have stayed in Bloomington, where at least they could warm up indoors. Outside of two games in Indianapolis, the team has been playing the dining room league exclusively since leaving the spring camp.

* * *

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The Chicago Cub mound staff will consist of nine pitchers for the present, Manager Jimmy Wilson indicated before leaving for Chicago. Among newcomers likely to stay are two Pacific coast hurlers, Dick Barrett and Ray Prim.

CHICAGO—The complete Chicago White Sox squad was home today and in a mood for a batting workout, something the athletes haven't had in four days. But the weather still held the answer.

WILMINGTON, Del.—Unable to start their three-game series with the Boston Braves yesterday in Philadelphia, the Athletics are scheduled to face Boston here today and at Shibe park in Philadelphia Friday.

MUNCIE, Ind.—Veteran Tommy Bridges shakes his chances of [illegible] season's opening [illegible] assignment for the Detroit Tigers when he [illegible] against the Pittsburgh Pirates today in an exhibition game here.

DESAUTELS ST RATES AS INDIA 1ST STRING CATCH

Boudreau Picks Him for O ing Game with Detr Next Week.

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, Ohio, Apr. 15—[illegible] Lou Boudreau [illegible] ment of the Cleveland [illegible] starting lineup for [illegible] against Detroit next Wednesday [illegible] several revelations.

Nomination of Gene Desautels for the [illegible] job by Boudreau still [illegible] Hockett, stocky New England [illegible] first string catcher.

When Roy Weatherly and Oscar Grimes were sent to the New York Yankees last December in exchange for Buddy Rosar, Roy Cullenbine it was assumed that Rosar would be depended on for the greater part of the Indians' catching this year.

That seemed to be the case for the trade, but so far Rosar has not proved himself a better catcher than Desautels.

In nine practice games he has made two hits in 29 at bat.

Pitchers like to work with Desautels. They respect his judgment and his knowledge of the league's hitters. Only a slump in batting ability will Rosar take the first string job from Desautels.

The omission of Oris Hockett's name from the outfield list obviously is a disciplinary measure although Boudreau hasn't identified it and declined to discuss the matter. Hockett w

Notre Dame Tracksters Try for Double Win

NOTRE DAME, IND., April 15—The undefeated Notre Dame track team, victorious in four consecutive indoor carnivals, will be divided into two groups for the Drake relays and the Penn relays next week-end, according to an announcement made today by Coach Elvin R. (Doc) Handy.

The Notre Dame team, strongest in the school's track history, was wanted at both the carnivals and Coach Handy decided to split his team and shoot for both titles—a feat never before accomplished by any track squad.

The Notre Dame four mile relay team, holder of the American indoor record for the distance, will shoot for Indiana's world mark of 17.16.2 in the Penn relays in Philadelphia on April 24.

Dorris feels ...booter especially will be needed for the tilt with the seniors Monday, to say nothing of next season.

The senior lineup for the April 19 fray will be lacking in some of the familiar faces from the 1942 varsity. LeRoy Harvey, hard-smashing fullback from last fall, is now wearing the khaki of Uncle Sam, who probably will not be present. However, Fritz Ruhl, another backfielder of last season and now a sailor at the Great Lakes Naval Training station in Chicago, undoubtedly will be in one of the halfback posts. Ruhl recently wrote Dorris that he "would be at the stadium to give those 1943 boys the works." Another probable absentee in the alumni ranks will be Bob Dixon. Dixon, who was first string guard last fall, is now on the physically ailing list.

Play for Keeps

The varsity - under - graduate battles usually are no brotherly love affairs. Although the two teams play in a sportsmanlike manner, the old gridiron competitive spirit still flares up in the individual play and in team functioning. These games also provide the Harding coaches with an opportunity for catching the weak spots in the lineup under actual game conditions. These flaws can then be ironed out before any inter-school rival can detect them.

BUCYRUS GRIDDERS DRILLED BY WASYLIK

Stories from the Bucyrus Telegraph-Forum state that the Bucyrus High school spring football practice is progressing well under the direction of Coach Nick Wasylik.

The Redmen will meet the Loudonville gridders in their first spring tilt on April 16. Wasylik hopes to secure a return game with Loudonville the following week.

Reports say that two new footballers are making Wasylik's eyes sparkle at the practices on the Lane street field. One is Sophomore Danny Benham, a star basketballer for the Redmen last winter. He is reported to be a cinch for one of the starting end positions. Tommy Barton, a fullback, is the other aggressive youngster. He is giving the regular fullback, Rod Teets, a run for his money.

It has been estimated that American farm horses can accomplish from 25 to 50 per cent more work if correctly managed and properly fed.

THORPE

tions must have pleased both Thorpe and the Carlisle faculty.

The punishments given Thorpe was criminally out of proportion to the crime. He was stripped of his medals and trophies, his name stricken from the record books. He was, you see, "only an Indian."

To the man who finished second in the decathlon by 688 points went Jim's honors, and to the runner up in the pentathlon went more of them. The more elaborate prizes Jim won at Stockholm reverted to the International Olympic Federation, and are locked up somewhere in Switzerland. Only legend knows the name of Thorpe.

Thorpe played professional baseball and football after his "disgrace" but he never got anywhere. He was fond of spirits, was Jim, and a curve ball was his baseball Nemesis. After a spectacular series of ups and downs, he drifted out of sight. Only infrequently would the world hear of him. In 1931, he was found to be digging ditches or a living in Los Angeles. Later he went on lecture talks, expounding the virtues of physical fitness and informing the public at large on Indian lore. But all his ventures seemed to fizzle. Apparently, he's a man marked for the bottom of the pile.

That is why it would be so important to have the medals and honor Thorpe won so long ago restored to him. That's all he can hope to have. That's all any man can hope to have.

INDIANS

regular last year and he is obviously in the doghouse because of his desertion of the team last week.

Jim Bagby was named for a seven-inning stretch in today's game with the Cincinnati Reds.

Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds still is anxious to see if Clyde Shoun has anything on the ball and will use him today. So far Clyde has worked one inning and McKechnie wants him to have a bigger opportunity before the season starts.

McKechnie also said the five remaining exhibition games would see Gee Walker and Frank Kelleher competing to see if they can beat out Eric Tipton for the left field job.

BATTLE IN CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 15 — Jack (Buddy) Walker of Columbus will meet Patsy Perroni of Cleveland in an eight-round semi-final heavyweight bout at the Arena next Wednesday, Promoter Bob Brickman announced. Anton Christoforidis fights Lloyd Marshall in the feature. Corp. Barney Ross, touring mid-western war plants, will greet the crowd.

Six-Man Gang Mat Match Set for Armory Gym Tonight

Morris Shapiro Heads List of Competitors; Others Are Billins, LaChappell, Knox, Carone and LaBell.

Morris Shapiro, brilliant New York City athletic, heads a list of six "man o' wars" signed to appear in a battle royal wrestling program at the Armory arena tonight. The battle royal is slated to start at 8:30 and will be followed by a one hour semi-final event and two hour main-go scrap.

MORRIS SHAPIRO

Shapiro, a Jewish grappler of considerable prominence in the East, has Marion mat fans buzzing about his perfect build. Aside from his physical perfectness, Shapiro has proven himself a fine wrestler. He served in the Army in the year 1941 as a physical education instructor.

Also appearing in the six-man battle royal will be Maurice LaChappell, of San Francisco, who has wrestled many times in New York's Madison Square Garden; Buddy Knox, the Nashville, Tenn., sensation and currently leading the point winners on the Toledo mat trail; Chief Carone, Boston, Mass., heavyweight; and Rene LaBell, who defeated Larry Kasabuski in a thrilling two hour event last Thursday.

Here's the mechanics of a battle royal: All six men enter the ring to begin the event. The first two to lose go to the showers and for their part in the program proceed to the dressing rooms. The next two finalists hook up in a two-out-of-three-fall-in-the-15-minute-hour scrap at the conclusion of the six-man-final event. The battle is semi-final.

MARKET STILL ON UPSWING

Rails and Utilities Lead Further Recovery Effort Today.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Rails and utilities today led the stock market on an extension of the recovery swing which got under way in the previous session.

The generally good war news, carmaks prospect and the administration's campaign to hold the price-wage line apparently acted as a spur to the revival of investment demand which had faltered during the past week.

Bonds improved. Commodities were mixed.

Among stocks now 1943 tops were touched by Nortolk & Western, International Telephone and Schenley. Prominent on the advance were N. Y. Central, American Telephone, North American, American Water Works, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, J. I. Case and Allied Chemical.

Friends of American Telephone were cheered by the first quarter figures of this bellwether disclosing the regular $9 annual disbursement covered in the face of mounting taxes and operating costs.

GRAIN PRICES HOLD TO NARROW RANGE

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 15 — Grain futures moved within a narrow range today in the absence of any important news. Trading was dull.

In the cash corn market, however, another day of heavy trading was in progress in reflection of higher OPA ceilings. Demand from the east and southeast was heavy and about 500,000 bushels were sold for shipment to those areas. Most sales were at new maximums.

New Record in Attack on Japanese at Kiska

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15—The Aleutians air force command broke all previous records for number of attacks on Kiska in a single day, the Navy reported today, when the enemy-held island was raided ten times Tuesday by both heavy and medium bombers.

The ten raids even exceeded the total number of attacks on Kiska in the entire month of February when the island was raided nine times by planes which dropped a total of 1,000 bombs.

Since March 1 Kiska has been attacked 72 times, the count including Tuesday's assaults.

Network Programs Still Plugging War Loan Drive

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 15—Radio's concentration in the opening of the three-week drive for the Second War Loan didn't end its participation by any means. Networks and local stations are going ahead with their part of the campaign, but more on an individual program and special announcement basis than the general schedule used on Monday.

To begin on the BLU at 6:05 p. m. Sunday is a Jim Ameche series, Here's to Romance, a musical variety show with Dave Broekmann's 30-piece orchestra, Tenor Buddy Clark and a 12-voice chorus.

A new program, for next Tuesday at 7:30 on NBC, is Salute to Youth, Raymond Paige conducting an all-youth orchestra, with the general theme stressing youth and their activities in the war.

A campaign for reconditioning and reusing old cotton bale ties is expected to save 10,000 tons of steel

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"SHE CARRIED out the criminal tradition," I commented.

"What?" Hal countered. "Oh yes, I see; taking an alibi with the same initials as in the real crime.

"Of course I dropped everything at seeing Katharine's name," he went on. "And said the wisest thing to my private office.

"I disliked her at sight. I am not sure for her type appeals, but chiefly because something about her spelled cobra to me, and I resolved to watch my step where she.

"She did not mince words, but went directly to the point. 'You are Dr. Hal Meredith, famous alienist?' she demanded.

"I told her my name was Hal Meredith and I was an alienist, but did not know I was famous.

"'Oh yes, you do,' she retorted. 'You are very well aware of it, and I do not imagine you would like to have anything happen to topple you from your pinnacle of fame.'
